WORKMARKET CLIENT SNAPSHOT

The Client

A professional services company specializing in language translation, localization, software testing, e-learning translation, internationalization, interpretation, software development & testing, and content development services.

They were dealing with several challenges around managing and engaging their vast workforce of freelancers.

Outcomes from the Client's Use of a Technology Platform

Talent Assessments to Onboard Faster

In order to onboard workers at scale and place them automatically in the right talent pool for future assignments, our client created online assessments within the WorkMarket platform.

Organizing Talent to Route Work Efficiently

The company has over 100 talent pools that help them organize their talent by their specialized skills, in this case, by language.

Paying Workers Across the Globe

By using WorkMarket's payment engine, the client can offer payment in 76 countries, adding new countries as requirements come up and paying in 24 currencies via PayPal. The company utilizes the bulk pay service that lets it process 3,000+ requests at a time.
