

WorkMarket in Action

WorkMarket, an ADP company, offers technology that helps businesses identify, onboard, organize, manage, rate, and pay contingent workers for assignments via an end-to-end platform.

See how companies across industries have been able to unlock the power of their extended workforce (1099s, contractors, freelancers, contingent workers).

EXPANDED FOOTPRINT

A manufacturing client was able to meet customer demand across a national footprint and attract workers with specialized skills. This improved their customer experience and facilitated rapid growth.

IMPROVED EFFICIENCY

A healthcare client improved operations by eliminating administrative burdens for payments, resulting in talent retention. Automation saved them time and cost by reducing manual errors.

INCREASED VISIBILITY

An information technology client was able to grow and scale its business by integrating across multiple systems. This gave them increased visibility into people and the costs of running their field services operations.

GREW WITH CONFIDENCE

A consulting services client was able to address compliance with worker classification. The automation alleviated manual administrative burdens and improved their daily operations.

RETAINED TOP TALENT

A hospitality client automated and streamlined their operations to scale their business to meet customer demands. They also improved worker satisfaction with faster payments which further enabled talent retention.
