Transaction Commentary

"We are pursuing an extraordinary opportunity to overhaul an industry that historically has been misaligned and out-of-touch with the needs of its customers. Since day one Ramp has been designed to save our customers time and money, which is fueling our rapid growth. We've delivered over $135 million in savings for our customers to date. We're helping companies close their books in eight hours instead of the industry median of eight days – freeing up 3.5 million hours of manual work. None of our competitors can say the same. With this funding, we will continue to help even more businesses manage their money easier, faster, and smarter."

Eric Glyman
Co-Founder & CEO

"One of our core differentiators at Founders Fund is the willingness to double, triple, quadruple down when a company is executing at the highest levels. Especially in volatile times like today, top-tier CFOs are looking to get the most out of every dollar and hour, and Ramp is the best tool on the market to enable that. They've also successfully transitioned from a single-product company to a finance automation platform. This second act has massive potential for upside. Ramp is freeing finance teams from outdated processes and enabling them to focus on not just funding growth, but accelerating it."
