Management Commentary <sup>(1)</sup>

"We want to focus not only on back office but also to add value to customers to make their businesses better through dashboards, reporting and insight. Customers who use the existing business reports grow faster. Our vision is to give much better insight and business advice through AI and to do that we need more data, not just back office but front line too."

"Initially we focused on small business but now our biggest customers have a couple of hundred employees so we are going upmarket."

"Only about 10 percent of small businesses in the country use online banking... When it comes to people who need to enter data, then I think the job or tasks will disappear." <sup>(2)</sup>
