About this Report

This report is made by Aritzia Inc. on behalf of itself and its subsidiary Aritzia LP (the Canadian Reporting Entities) for the period of March 3, 2025 to March 1, 2026, our fiscal year (Fiscal 2026). This report details our efforts to address the risks of Modern Slavery<sup>i</sup> which includes Child Labour<sup>ii</sup> and Forced Labour<sup>iii</sup> pursuant to Canada's Fighting Against Forced Labour and Child Labour in Supply Chains Act (the Canadian Act) and the efforts of United States of Aritzia Inc. pursuant to California's Transparency in Supply Chains Act. The Canadian Reporting Entities, with United States of Aritzia Inc., are referred to in this report as Aritzia, we, and our.

This report outlines the steps Aritzia has taken during Fiscal 2026 to prevent and reduce the risk that Forced Labour or Child Labour is used at any step of the production of goods in Canada or elsewhere by the entity or of goods imported into Canada by the entity. Notably, the sections Our Supply Chain Human Rights Due Diligence, Policies, and Governance starting on page 6 and Our Actions to Address Risks of Modern Slavery on page 11 provide clear details on the steps taken in Fiscal 2026.

Introduction

At Aritzia, we're committed to upholding human rights, across our value chain in line with international standards and industry best practices. We recognize complex social topics, such as Forced Labour and Child Labour, are rooted in several causes. We are committed to conducting ongoing human rights due diligence across our value chain, including assessments, policies, processes, Social Impact programs of work, training, governance structures, industry working groups, and continuous improvement initiatives. This report aims to address these topics.

In 2016, Aritzia established a stand-alone Sustainability Department responsible for addressing environmental and social (E&S) topics. Subsequently, a Social Impact Team was introduced to focus on upholding human rights along Aritzia's supply chain. In Fiscal 2025<sup>iv</sup>, the team's strategy and responsibilities were expanded to encompass our existing supply chain environmental program, which oversees and monitors facilities' environmental practices and performance. This evolution allows for a more holistic approach to responsible supply chain management of suppliers and their facilities along the supply chain.

At Aritzia, we have established policies and procedures for evaluating social risks at both a country and facility level. Our Human Rights Position Statement articulates our commitment and outlines our approach to upholding human rights across our value chain in line with international standards and industry best practices. Our Supplier Code of Conduct (Supplier CoC) sets our expectations for suppliers including with respect to fair and safe, and equitable working conditions, and human rights, among other things. The Supplier CoC is regularly reviewed to help align with industry best practices and is used to evaluate supplier practices through our key Social Impact programs.

Notably, in 2017, we introduced a monitoring program, our Supplier Workplace Standards Program (SWS Program), for our exclusive brands' Tier 1 suppliers' facilities to help ensure that our expectations, particularly those outlined in the Supplier CoC, are met. In Fiscal 2026, we maintained this SWS Program and continued our expansion into Tier 2 of the supply chain for our exclusive brand products. In Fiscal 2024, we launched our Worker Voice Program (WV Program) pilot, which sought to amplify the voices of the people in our supply chain. In Fiscal 2026, we drew on the insights provided by the pilot to design the next iteration of the WV Program with the intent of implementing an updated program with selected supplier facilities across the supply chain in Fiscal 2027. Further information can be found on page 11.

At Aritzia, we have conducted a suite of assessments to support our understanding of potential sustainability-related risks and opportunities that exist across our value chain. In Fiscal 2026, we performed a Materiality<sup>v</sup> Assessment to understand the most significant impacts of our business across our value chain. The approach to this assessment sought to align with internationally recognized impact materiality frameworks. Additionally, in Fiscal 2022, we conducted a Supply Chain Risk Assessment with a focus on Forced Labour, which considered the materials in our products, the processing and manufacturing location, and our relationship with the supplier. In Fiscal 2025, we commissioned the support of an external specialist consultancy for human rights to review our internal human rights due diligence frameworks, including our Human Rights Impact Assessment and our Human Rights Position Statement, to help identify opportunities to further strengthen our efforts.

The Environmental and Social Committee of the Board of Directors assists the Board in fulfilling its corporate sustainability oversight responsibilities with respect to reviewing and providing guidance to management on, without limitation, social and labour impacts of the Company's operations and supply chain. They have oversight responsibilities with respect to management's processes for the identification, management, and mitigation strategies, where appropriate, of E&S risks and opportunities. Further information can be found on page 10.

The activities outlined in this report form part of our efforts to address risks of Forced Labour and Child Labour. We are committed to continuous improvement in our efforts to do business responsibly, and our progress and investment to date demonstrates our continued commitment to delivering positive impact in the year ahead.

We complement our exclusive product mix with a strategically chosen selection of premium denim, accessories, and footwear from well-loved third-party brands.

OUR SUPPLY CHAIN

The apparel industry navigates complex and dynamic supply chains. For the production of Aritzia's exclusive brands' products, we work with suppliers<sup>vi</sup> across the globe. The supply chain for each product can be unique in terms of the number of suppliers and their locations of operation. The suppliers in our supply chain range in size and complexity, with certain suppliers being independently owned and operated, while others are members of multinational corporate families.

This report covers the supply chain for the production of goods for Aritzia’s exclusive brands’ products, representing approximately 97% of Aritzia’s net revenue. For more information on the practices of the select third-party brands and collaborations that we retail, please refer to those companies and their respective websites. In line with the apparel industry, our exclusive brands’ supply chain can be summarized in four tiers:

- Finished Goods Production Suppliers (Tier 1): Companies that Aritzia works with directly, from whom Aritzia’s final product is sourced (e.g. cutting, sewing, labelling, finishing, and packing)
- Fabric Suppliers (Tier 2): Companies that manufacture textiles, leather, and other fabric products using raw materials (e.g. weaving, knitting, washing, dyeing, and printing)
- Trim Suppliers (Tier 2): Companies that manufacture materials or components used in apparel products that are not the main fabric (e.g. zippers, snaps, buttons, labels, and hangtags)
- Raw Material Suppliers (Tier 3): Companies that process raw materials to produce yarns or filaments (e.g. spinning and tanning)
- Commodity (Tier 4): Companies that are the original source from which raw materials or chemicals are produced, extracted, or cultivated from earth, plants, or animals (e.g. harvesting, shearing, extraction, and cultivation)

We aim to collaborate with finished goods, fabric, and trim suppliers for our exclusive brands whose value is defined not only by the quality of the product but also by how they work. Under our Supplier CoC, suppliers must advise and receive written approval by Aritzia of any subcontracting relating to the production of our exclusive brands’ products and seek to ensure such subcontractors abide by our expectations, including those outlined in our Supplier CoC. For more information, see page 9.

As at March 1, 2026, our exclusive brands supply chain for Tier 1 suppliers was located in 14 countries, with a workforce consisting of approximately 77% women and 23% men. Details on the exclusive brands Tier 1 suppliers’ facilities<sup>vii</sup> are summarized in the table below.

Modern Slavery Risks in Supply Chains

For this report, we use the umbrella term Modern Slavery<sup>i</sup> to include the risks of both Forced Labour and Child Labour, which may present across the apparel industry supply chain.

Since 2017, Aritzia has aligned its definition of Child Labour with the International Labour Organization's (ILO) conventions, notably the ILO Worst Forms of Child Labour Convention, 1999 (No. 182) and ILO Minimum Age Convention (No. 138). That is, the worst forms of Child Labour are, without limitation, work conducted by children under the local legal working age or 15 years old; that deprives children of their childhood, their potential, and their dignity; and that is harmful to physical and mental development<sup>ii</sup>. We also aligned our definition of Young Workers with the ILO Worst Forms of Child Labour Recommendation (No. 190), which is people between the local legal working age and under 18 years old.

IDENTIFYING MODERN SLAVERY RISKS IN THE APPAREL SUPPLY CHAIN

Modern Slavery exists worldwide in various forms and is a complex topic rooted in several causes, including systemic inequalities. To help inform how we identify Modern Slavery risks along the apparel industry supply chain, we have reviewed industry best practice data and reports<sup>viii</sup>. We have included examples of how vulnerability to exploitation (including Modern Slavery) may present and/or increase risks for people in the apparel supply chain below:

- Poor working conditions may increase vulnerability to exploitation (e.g. hazardous work or limited access to fair employment or decent work)
- Unauthorized subcontracting arrangements may increase vulnerability to exploitation (e.g. unauthorized homeworking arrangements where working standards have not been reviewed)
- Deceptive recruitment practices may increase vulnerability to exploitation (e.g. migrant workers may not have employment contracts or may have employment contracts provided in a language they don't understand)
- The use of temporary workers or workers in countries with high internal migration patterns may increase vulnerability of exploitation (e.g. identification documents may be withheld from workers in the harvesting and cultivation of raw materials)

Since 2017, we have built our SWS Program by taking a risk-based approach, prioritizing efforts with our exclusive brands' Tier 1 suppliers, where we have the most leverage and direct business relationships. However, we recognize these risks may be present in any tier of the apparel supply chain and may increase in the lower tiers of the supply chain where supply chain networks become more complex and opaque.

Since 2021, we have begun expanding our SWS Program into Tier 2 of the supply chain, based on the level of the business relationship and/or those producing key materials for our exclusive brands' products. As we build capacity in Fiscal 2027, we will seek to work with our exclusive brands' Tier 1 and Tier 2 suppliers to expand our transparency further across the supply chain.

Our risk-based approach to the SWS Program reflects the findings of our Materiality Assessment and Human Rights Impact Assessment described in the following section.

OUR MATERIALITY ASSESSMENT AND HUMAN RIGHTS IMPACT ASSESSMENT

In Fiscal 2026, Aritzia performed a Materiality Assessment with the intent of renewing our understanding of our most significant impacts. The approach to this assessment sought to align with internationally recognized impact materiality frameworks, such as the Global Reporting Initiative. Supported by an external specialist consultancy, we sought to conduct a comprehensive review across our value chain on our environmental, social, and governance impacts, informed by select stakeholder insights. This assessment seeks to strengthen how we identify salient impacts and integrate them into our management of impact-related risks and opportunities. We will continue to advance this work in Fiscal 2027.

Additionally, in Fiscal 2023, we conducted a Human Rights Impact Assessment across our value chain. The results help inform our Social Impact programs and guide our risk mitigation strategies to focus on addressing the most important human rights topics. This assessment, coupled with our due diligence process, identified "the right to enjoy just and favourable conditions at work" as one of the most salient human rights topics across our value chain.

Considering the results of both assessments, we understand that upholding human rights for people across our value chain, specifically across the supply chain, to be one of the most important topics for Aritzia from a sustainability perspective. Throughout Fiscal 2026, we continued to prioritize risk mitigation activities across the supply chain, with our exclusive brands' Tier 1 and Tier 2 suppliers, where we have the most significant impact and leverage.

In Fiscal 2025, we commissioned the support of an external specialist human rights consultancy to review our current internal human rights due diligence frameworks in line with the United Nations Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights (UNGPs). Throughout Fiscal 2026, we continued to collaborate with this consultancy. Their review identified opportunities to strengthen our current practices in line with the market and the changing regulatory landscape to help ensure our efforts to uphold human rights across the supply chain is maintained. Some of the opportunities identified and actioned in Fiscal 2026 included training to key stakeholders across the business, further information can be found on page 12.

OUR SUPPLY CHAIN LABOUR RISK ASSESSMENT

In Fiscal 2022, to help strengthen our ongoing assessment of labour-based risks, we conducted a Supply Chain Risk Assessment, focusing on Forced Labour risks with the support of an expert third-party provider. The assessment was multi-layered, drawing firstly on country and sector risk factors, which were overlaid with Aritzia-specific factors, including proximity, nature of work, the materials in our products, and our relationship with the supplier. Since Fiscal 2023, we have continued implementing the recommendations identified to help mitigate and manage supply chain risks, including implementing additional controls, helping ensure suppliers have accepted and comply with Aritzia's policies, reviewing audit protocols, and supporting due diligence practices.

Our Supply Chain Human Rights Due Diligence, Policies, and Governance

At Aritzia, we aim to do business responsibly, and, as such, we use the UNGPs to help guide our human rights approach.

HOW WE ASSESS RISK BEFORE ENTERING A NEW COUNTRY

We review potential new sourcing countries for exclusive brands' Tier 1 suppliers' facilities by facilitating a cross-functional country risk assessment led by our internal Enterprise Risk Management Team. The assessment considers a range of criteria including human and labour rights, manufacturing excellence, international trade, logistics and geopolitical metrics, and environmental stewardship. The outcome of this assessment informs our decisions when exploring new countries from which to source finished goods for our exclusive brands. Once we have entered a country, we maintain ongoing communication with suppliers, internal cross-functional partners, and external industry stakeholders to help ensure effective monitoring of our sourcing countries' conditions and mitigation of potential risks.

HOW WE ONBOARD OUR SUPPLIERS

We seek to work collaboratively with suppliers across the globe. Since 2016, when the Sustainability Department was established, this has included assessing the workplace standards of our exclusive brands' Tier 1 suppliers' facilities before we begin to work with them. We aim to build a relationship with suppliers and their facilities and help them in meeting our standards, while regularly assessing their compliance with our Supplier CoC through our SWS Program (i.e. our auditing program, which includes assessments of suppliers' facilities' workplace standards). For each of our non-transactional<sup>ix</sup>, exclusive brands' Tier 1 supplier facility, a pre-onboarding assessment is conducted, including a review of the supplier facility's employment practices, labour rights, and working conditions. At onboarding, exclusive brands' Tier 1 and Tier 2 suppliers are issued key policies and procedures for acceptance, see page 9. Additionally, we set a requirement for suppliers to sign a certification confirming there is no use of any Forced Labour in the manufacturing of goods for Aritzia and no sourcing of materials or products for Aritzia derived from any type of Forced Labour.

OUR SUPPLIER WORKPLACE STANDARDS PROGRAM (AUDITS)

In Fiscal 2026, we maintained our SWS Program, which is based on trust, transparency, and continuous improvement. We monitor in-scope exclusive brands' Tier 1 and in-scope<sup>x</sup> Tier 2 supplier facilities against our Supplier CoC with the support of independent third-party specialty service providers. SWS Program audits are always conducted by independent third-party specialty service providers.

Considering the basis of our SWS Program, we openly share our and/or our service providers' audit scheduling framework with participating suppliers and their facilities. This includes both announced audits, which cover the majority of our audits, as well as unannounced audits conducted on a case-by-case basis in line with Aritzia's or our service providers' frameworks.

Aritzia is a Buyer Partner of Better Work, a partnership between the ILO and the International Finance Corporation (IFC), which conducts both unannounced facility assessments in line with both International Labour Standards and national legal frameworks, and announced advisory facility visits scheduled according to their framework. Better Work also visits facilities participating in their program to provide ongoing capacity-building and advisory support.

Following all assessments conducted, findings which require remediation are documented in a Corrective Action Plan (CAP). The Social Impact Team monitors each CAPs progress to agreed timelines, provides support where appropriate, and aims to conduct site visits to help further build relationships and trust with suppliers and their facilities.

In Fiscal 2026, third-party assessments were conducted at 95% of our in-scope<sup>xi</sup> exclusive brands' Tier 1 supplier facilities. The remaining in-scope facilities requiring assessments are being scheduled in the first quarter of Fiscal 2027. Of the Fiscal 2027 assessments conducted, 72% were announced. The remaining 28% were unannounced.

For more information on our auditing practices, including the Supplier Workplace Standards Rating Framework, associated action items, and scheduling cadence, please refer to the FY2025 Aritzia Impact Report or our website.

OUR SUPPLIER WORKPLACE STANDARDS PROGRAM

If an opportunity for improvement is identified or remediation is required, Aritzia takes a collaborative approach and supports facilities in developing a CAP where suppliers are accountable for the remediation and implementation of lasting solutions. CAPs are tailored to help remediate suppliers' facilities' specific noncompliance(s), including root-cause analysis, short-term remediation actions, and long-term corrective actions. These conversations are facilitated by an internal subject matter expert who has been trained on key human rights topics, see page 12. In Fiscal 2027, we will continue to maintain our SWS Program for our exclusive brands' Tier 1 suppliers and plan to continue to expand across Tier 2, with the overall goal to expand across the supply chain in the coming years.

OUR SUPPLIER SOURCING AND MANUFACTURING SCORECARD

In Fiscal 2026, we maintained our approach of providing social and environmental performance feedback to suppliers through sourcing and manufacturing supplier scorecards in our Annual Business Review (ABR). This process helps ensure the suppliers we work with understand the importance of social and environmental performance in our sourcing strategy, as well as how it is incorporated into our corporate decision-making. Supplier facilities are graded according to the severity of noncompliance with Aritzia's expectations, including those outlined in the Supplier CoC. In Fiscal 2026, 73% of our Tier 1 suppliers were covered by a sourcing and manufacturing scorecard. Of those suppliers issued a scorecard, 47% participated in an ABR meeting and were given feedback through these aforementioned scorecards.

In the case of a serious issue having been identified, that is, for example, those that pose a risk to workers or result in a human rights violation, the relationship between Aritzia and the supplier will be terminated. When this occurs, a responsible exit strategy will be put into place, which aims to mitigate the negative impact on workers. Further information on our principles and approach to responsible exits can be found on page 9.

OUR ANNUAL SUPPLIER RELATIONSHIP REVIEW SURVEY

We recognize our business activities may have an impact on suppliers and how they operate. Over the past several years, we have aimed to conduct a feedback survey with our exclusive brands' Tier 1 suppliers, offering them the opportunity to share insights on how they and Aritzia work together, on both our strengths, and on opportunities to improve the relationship. This includes how we work with them across multiple dimensions, such as lead times, forecasting, and communication. We use the findings to understand how we can improve in these business relationships and how to best enable effective and responsible operations with suppliers.

Our Ongoing Implementation of Supply Chain Policies and Procedures

In Fiscal 2026, the Sustainability Department maintained its suite of policy and procedure documentation. In line with the governance process established in Fiscal 2025, these documents were reviewed throughout the year to evaluate that our expectations are fit for purpose and in line with industry best practices, as appropriate.

As part of our SWS Program, Aritzia requires its suppliers to agree to our Supplier CoC, and, in doing so, commit to compliance with legal requirements, including, without limitation, ensuring all work is voluntary and no forced, trafficked, illegal, prison-based, indentured or bonded and that no other forms of Forced Labour or Child Labour have been used. The Supplier CoC is supported by specific policies to address risks with specific manufacturing processes, such as homeworking, and vulnerable people along the supply chain, such as migrant workers. These policies and others that guide our exclusive brands' Tier 1 and Tier 2 suppliers' adherence with our SWS Program, are listed in the table below.

GOVERNANCE AND OVERSIGHT

In Fiscal 2026, we maintained our strategic approach to the management of all Impact-related work, led by Aritzia's Chief Impact Officer, reporting directly to the Chief Executive Officer. The day-to-day, leadership, and execution of Impact priorities are driven across several areas of the business, including our Sustainability Department, which focuses on the environmental impact across our entire value chain and social impact within our supply chain.

The Environmental and Social Committee of the Board helps oversee Aritzia's E&S topics and guides Aritzia's Impact strategies.

Our Actions to Address Risks of Modern Slavery

As part of our commitment to fair and safe employment conditions across our value chain, outlined in our Supplier CoC and other key policies on page 9, we aim to build meaningful business relationships with exclusive brands' suppliers who share our values and work to develop long-lasting improvements that extend along the supply chain.

OUR WORKER VOICE PROGRAM

In Fiscal 2024, we initiated a WV Program pilot to help strengthen our collaborative approach when working with suppliers. Effective and accessible communication channels for people in the supply chain are key to informing how we work. Supporting suppliers and their facilities in maintaining appropriate communication channels that allow for anonymous feedback and two-way dialogue is a priority. Additionally, our Supplier CoC sets expectation that supplier facilities offer grievance management systems, which we regularly monitor through our SWS Program.

We've developed a tailored, multi-stakeholder WV Program, which seeks to amplify the voices of the people in the supply chain Arizia works with while supporting suppliers in maintaining effective communication channels. The pilot is supported by multiple expert third-party providers with on-the-ground experience and includes:

- A designated hotline, allowing confidentiality and providing people in the supply chain an additional channel to ask questions, provide feedback, and report concerns
- A survey tool to gather insights on working conditions anonymously from people in the supply chain
- Third-party consultancies to support factories in evaluating and providing training to enhance their communication channels

In Fiscal 2024, we implemented a 15-month pilot of the WV Program to run throughout Fiscal 2025 in five supplier facilities in China and one supplier facility in Cambodia. The pilot was designed to help deepen our understanding of the lived experiences of the people in our supply chain and help inform the next phase of the WV Program. In Fiscal 2026 we have drawn on the insights provided by the WV Program pilot to design the next iteration of the WV Program with the intent of implementing an expanded program with our selected supplier facilities across the supply chain. We expect the next phase of the WV Program pilot to be launched in Fiscal 2027. Additionally, we expect the pilot will continue to help further inform our programming and due diligence practices, focusing on enhancing worker wellbeing by implementing effective management systems and mitigation strategies.

OUR TRAINING PROGRAMS

In Fiscal 2026, Aritzia continued its focus on developing our own employees and building a culture of trust and transparency to effectively implement our values in our supply chain. In Fiscal 2025, we developed a Human Rights Training Roadmap to help us prioritize awareness-raising and capability-building for our employees. This includes developing and delivering role-specific human rights training to personnel who work with suppliers.

We continue to take a risk-based approach to training our People, prioritizing those at all levels who interact and have relationships with suppliers. Since 2017, our Introduction to Human Rights training continues to be mandatory for new employees in selected roles<sup>xii</sup>. This training is reviewed, updated, and presented by a subject matter expert annually. In Fiscal 2026, the content of the training was reviewed so that it reflected the latest guidance on risks of the apparel industry and business-specific information.

This training provides:

- An overview of human rights and the role and responsibility of governments and companies
- An examination of what Forced Labour and Child Labour are and the various forms it may take
- An overview of our approach to supply chain management through a human rights lens
- A consideration of various scenarios to put the learnings into practice

The training seeks to build capability for our People to understand the risks associated with manufacturing in a global supply chain and to be aware of the systems and processes in place should any issues be identified.

In Fiscal 2026, in line with the principles of our Human Rights Training Roadmap, and with the support of the external specialty consultancy engaged to review our human rights due diligence (see page 6), we designed and delivered a foundational human rights training course to several of our cross-functional partners. The training was founded in the UNGPs and provided:

- An overview of international standards on human rights
- An overview of potential linkages between environmental impact and human rights
- An introduction to identifying, prioritizing, and addressing human rights topics

OUR MEMBERSHIPS AND CERTIFICATIONS

In Fiscal 2026, we continued to play an active role in several forums focused on supporting companies to improve their Modern Slavery approaches. Understanding that we make the greatest social impact by collaborating with organizations that are dedicated to making systemic changes across our industry, we're intentional about aligning with initiatives that reflect our values and foster positivity in the communities we impact locally and across the globe. We shared our insights and experiences with suppliers, investors, peers, and civil society representatives. This included the following organizations and members:

TYPE	ORGANIZATION	DESCRIPTION OF THE ORGANIZATION	ARITZIA'S RELATIONSHIP TO THE ORGANIZATION
Membership	American Apparel & Footwear Association (AAFA)	Since 2022, Aritzia has been a member of the AAFA, the United States' national trade association representing apparel, footwear, and travel goods companies and their suppliers. The AAFA is a trusted public policy and political voice for the apparel and footwear industry, its management, shareholders, and workers.	At Aritzia, Sustainability and other key stakeholders participate in the Social Responsibility Committee and Forced Labour Working Group. Working with AAFA helps inform our work, including our Supply Chain Social Impact programs and helps us stay abreast of apparel industry standards and changes in public policy.
Membership	Better Work	Since 2017, Aritzia has been a Buyer Partner of Better Work, a partnership between the United Nations International Labour Organization and the International Finance Corporation, a member of the World Bank Group that brings together governments, employers, workers, and international buyers to improve working conditions and respect for labour rights for workers while boosting the competitiveness of apparel businesses.	At Aritzia, our membership with Better Work forms part of our SWS Program by monitoring exclusive brands' Tier 1 supplier facilities against our Supplier CoC.
Membership	Worldly	Aritzia uses Worldly, the sustainability and supply chain intelligence platform for the consumer goods industry. Worldly aims to enable brands, retailers, and suppliers to use data to help inform strategic action, reduce risk, meet evolving regulations, and accelerate measurable impact. Aritzia leverages the Higg Materials Sustainability Index, Higg Facility Environmental Module, Higg Brand & Retail Module, and Fair Factories Clearinghouse (FFC) solutions on Worldly as part of our Sustainability programming.	At Aritzia, we partner with FFC as part of our SWS Program to manage data and report on performance for accurate, timely review and information analysis.
Membership	Responsible Labor Initiative (RLI)	Since 2020, Aritzia has been a member of RLI, a multi-industry, multi-stakeholder community of practice focused on ensuring the rights of workers vulnerable to Forced Labour in supply chains are respected and promoted.	At Aritzia, our membership with RLI provides industry-specific information on various social topics, which helps inform our Social Impact program and activities.
Membership	United Nations Global Compact (UN Global Compact)	Since 2021, Aritzia has been a member of the UN Global Compact, a voluntary initiative based on CEO commitments to implement universal sustainability principles and take steps to support the United Nations' goals. The Ten Principles of the UN Global Compact are derived from the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, the International Labour Organization's Declaration on Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work, the Rio Declaration on Environment and Development, and the United Nations Convention Against Corruption.	At Aritzia, our membership provides industry-specific information on various E&S topics, which helps inform our Social Impact program and activities. As a participant to the UN Global Compact Network, we submit, on an annual basis, our Communication on Progress, which demonstrates Aritzia's continued commitment to the Ten Principles for responsible business.

Certification	Customs Trade Partnership Against Terrorism (CTPAT)	Since 2008, Aritzia has been a certified partner of CTPAT, a voluntary public-private sector partnership program coordinated by the US Customs and Border Protection (USCBP). The program requires partners to identify security gaps and implement best-practice security measures throughout its supply chain.	Aritzia hold a Tier II level status under the CTPAT program and is required to meet rigorous, documented, and enforced security measures across our entire global supply chain.  Each year, Aritzia submits to USCBP, a mandatory security profile update that outlines our best-practice security measures, new relevant processes, and any improvements we are addressing throughout our supply chain. We also comply with the CTPAT requirement to submit evidence of a documented and implemented social compliance program.
Certification	Partners in Protection (PIP)	Since 2011, Aritzia has been a certified member of PIP, a voluntary public-private sector partnership program coordinated by Canada Border Services Agency (CBSA). The program requires partners to identify security gaps and implement best-practice security measures throughout its supply chain.	As part of Aritzia's annual security review under PIP, we submit evidence to the CBSA to confirm we have a current social compliance program in place (i.e. SWS Program, see pages xx).

OUR APPROACH TO REMEDIATION

In Fiscal 2026, through our human rights due diligence, policies, and governance, and our actions to help address our Modern Slavery risks, we did not find, and were not made aware of, any Modern Slavery in our business activities and supply chains. From time to time, we may become aware of potential concerns in our supply chain. Our practice is to promptly investigate such concerns and, if required, take appropriate action.

Accordingly, in Fiscal 2026, Aritzia did not take any measures to remediate any Forced Labour or Child Labour or any measures to remediate the loss of income to the most vulnerable families that resulted from any measure taken to eliminate the use of Forced Labour or Child Labour in our business activities and supply chains.

For our People, we outline the consequences if employees or contractors do not abide by the laws, rules, regulations, and any relevant Aritzia policies in Aritzia's Corporate Code of Conduct. To enable the reporting of violations of the Corporate Code of Conduct, Supplier Code of Conduct, and other Aritzia policies, we have a Whistleblower Policy and a confidential Hotline (which can be reached at +1-844-488-5677). Our Whistleblower Policy permits employees, directors, officers, and contractors to submit complaints confidentially and anonymously, and without fear of retaliation. Complaints reported pursuant to the Whistleblower Policy are regularly reviewed by the Audit Committee of the Board.

For people in the supply chain, Aritzia sets expectation that supplier facilities offer a properly functioning grievance management system for internal and external stakeholders. We also require that all workers are informed on how to use these mechanisms and associated procedures in a language they understand. This is particularly important with suppliers' facilities that have migrant workers within their workforce. These grievance management systems must be widely advertised, and suppliers' facilities must maintain records of the grievances received and how they were remediated. These expectations are outlined in our Supplier CoC and Migrant Worker Policy, see page 9. In relation to Child Labour and Young Workers found to work in hazardous conditions, Aritzia has drawn its key principles for remediation from industry best practices.

Furthermore, the audit practices conducted under the SWS Program may identify improvement opportunities for a supplier and their facilities to help foster a fair and safe working environment. If opportunities are identified or remediation required, Aritzia will collaborate with the supplier's facilities to develop a CAP, see page 7.
