What are the risks of investing?

Risk indicator for the Sharesies Total World Share Fund[1]

The risk indicator is rated from 1 (low) to 7 (high). The rating reflects how much the value of the fund's assets goes up and down. A higher risk generally means higher potential returns over time, but more ups and downs along the way.

To help you clarify your own attitude to risk, you can seek financial advice or work out your risk profile at www.sorted.org.nz.

Note that even the lowest category does not mean a risk-free investment, and there are other risks that are not captured by this rating.

This risk indicator is not a guarantee of a fund's future performance. The risk indicator is based on the returns data for the past 5 years. While risk indicators are usually relatively stable, they do shift from time to time. The risk indicator will continue to be updated in future fund updates.

See the product disclosure statement (PDS) for more information about the risks associated with investing in this fund.

How has the fund performed?

	Past year
Annual return (after deductions for charges and tax)	Not applicable
Annual return (after deductions but before tax)	Not applicable
Market index return (reflects no deduction for charges and tax)	20.26%

The Sharesies Total World Share Fund uses the Morningstar Global All Cap Target Market Exposure Index as the benchmark. Additional information about the market index is available on the offer register at https://disclose-register.companiesoffice.govt.nz.

What fees are investors charged?

Investors in the Sharesies Total World Share Fund are charged fund charges which are:

	% of net asset value (incl. GST)
Total fund charges (estimate)[2]	0.12%
Which are made up of:
Total management and administration charges	0.12%
Including:
Manager's Basic Fee	0.12%
Other management and administration charges	0.00%
Total performance-based fees	0.00%

Investors may also be charged individual action fees for specific actions or decisions (for example, for withdrawing from or switching funds). See the PDS for the Sharesies KiwiSaver Scheme on the offer register at https://disclose-register.companiesoffice.govt.nz for more information about those fees.

Small differences in fees and charges can have a big impact on your investment over the long term.

Example of how this applies to an investor

Billy had $10,000 in the fund on 23 April 2026 and did not make any further contributions. At the end of the period to 30 September 2026, Billy received a return after fund charges were deducted of $1,105.42 (that is 11.05% of his initial $10,000). Billy did not pay any other charges. This gives Billy a total return after tax of $1,050.53 for the period 23 April 2026 to 30 September 2026.

Notes

1. A combination of actual fund returns and market index returns have been used to determine the risk indicator as the fund has not been operating for the required five years. The risk indicator may therefore provide a less reliable indicator of the fund's future volatility. Market index returns have been used until 30 April 2026.
2. As the Sharesies Total World Share Fund only started accepting contributions on 23 April 2026, historical fee information is not available. The fund charges represent our best estimates of the fees and expenses that will be charged to the fund. These have been estimated using information provided by the underlying fund manager and by reference to the underlying fund's disclosure documents.
