Bond may like his Martini shaken. But bartenders recommend stirring to avoid too much dilution.

..... The Gin Act

Just in case you were wondering, 1751 is no random number. We take our name from the Gin Act of 1751, created in Britain to curb the 'Gin Craze' during the early decades of the 18th Century. In an era when gin drinkers were known as; rogues, strumpets and vagabonds, the Act encouraged the 'respectable' selling of gin by lowering the annual licence fee and allowing gin businesses to flourish.

..... House Distilled Gins

Our signature gin selection includes our unique creations from our in-house copper pot still called Lady Catherine. Matt our master distiller has come up with a range of exquisite house gins.

Ask one of our friendly bar types for one of our bespoke gin sliders – the perfect way to introduce the whole family.
