Fully Automated Identity Verification

Anyone, Anywhere, Anytime

OCR Labs is a simple way to remotely verify your customers' identity in seconds. We can verify the identity of anyone, anywhere, anytime - with just their ID and a smartphone.

We built all of our technology from scratch, and continually update it to stop fraudsters and impersonators before they can access your platform. With our unique approach to delivering ID verification - which doesn't rely on a template library or expensive human agents - we are able to help you drastically reduce overhead costs and rapidly speed up your verification process while meeting local regulations without compromising on customer experience.

Like our technology, we're a global company with offices in the UK, Australia, Turkey, and the USA - so we can meet you wherever you are.

16,000+ ID documents
220+ Countries
142 Languages & typesets

Our deep learning technology allows you to securely and quickly verify your customers' information wherever they are, without slowing down the application - rapidly improving both fraud and conversion rates simultaneously.

Maximise customer experience

Verify new users from anywhere, on any smartphone, with our fully automated solution. With no need for agent intervention and a quick, definitive outcome, you'll reduce drop-offs and increase conversion without compromising customer experience.

Accurate biometric verification, always

With our biometric verification, you can spot real, live customers making a genuine attempt to sign up - enabling you to spot bad actors while still equipping you with the adequate recordkeeping need for genuine customers in line with regulations.

Reauthentication made frictionless

Quickly and securely reauthenticate users with biometric liveness, using their originally approved ID document to ensure only your verified customers have the ability to access their accounts and your products. The entire process can be embedded in your platform for improved user experience and retention.

Meet your regulation and compliance needs

Our platform meets the most stringent privacy, security, and integrity standards - as well as covers almost every identity document in the world without relying on an ID template library. Extract and verify information from the identity document against local databases to meet your KYC and AML obligations with a simple API integration.

Speed up your verification process

Our platform gives you access to a fully automated solution with over 16,000+ recognised documents and 142 languages/typesets, with the ability to transliterate back to your CRM language with zero manual intervention required.

Get up and running with OCR Labs quickly using our secure and reliable API or dashboard.
