Letter from the Editor

I remember sitting down to write our first letter from the editor — my son was freshly off to preschool and my daughter was sleeping in a bassinet by my desk.

Now my son is almost 6, and my baby can push a stool over to the cabinet, get her own bowl, and pour a cup of milk into her cereal. Her favorite phrase: “I do it!”

Our home is best described as a cheerful mess. At any given minute, someone is being chased down the hallway, or building the world’s tallest block tower, or spilling glitter on the kitchen table. We’ve fully embraced the chaos of two little ones, and at the same time, we’re right on the edge of the big kid years.

Every family has this experience — growing up, growing into new phases, discovering new adventures and activities to share.

That’s why I’m so happy to share that our magazine is growing as well. We still have the preschool activities you love, and now we’re including stories and games for older kids too. We have a new look, and we’ve added perforated pages to make it easier to share.

Thank you for coming along on this journey. We know what it means to entertain our youngest fans, who are learning about the world every day. And I can tell you that I’m grateful every day for the opportunity.

From our Netflix family to yours,

Megan Sayers Chapham

- $\frac{3}{4}$ Cup salt
- 2 Cups water
- 4 Teaspoons cream of tartar
- 2 Tablespoons vegetable oil

Have an adult help
with this project!

Use the supplies checklist to make sure you have everything you need.

 Add all of the ingredients to a medium pot, stir them together, and cook over medium heat.

 Continue to stir until the mixture thickens and starts to form into a ball. Remove from the heat.

Allow the mixture to sit for at least 5 minutes until it is cool enough to handle. Knead the dough until it is smooth.

Roll the dough into a ball and divide it in half. Divide each half into three balls.

 Add 2-3 drops of food coloring to each ball and knead to mix the color. Add more drops for a darker color. Store the dough in plastic jars or zip-top sandwich bags.

Where Does Sand Come From?

Sand starts with ROCKS in mountains up high.

They get weathered by WIND, RAIN, and SNOW from the sky.

Though mostly from rocks, sand has more stuff as well ...

Like broken up pieces of CORAL and SHELL.

Did you know?

Sand is formed from feldspar and quartz

Did you know?

This process takes millions of years!

The TINIEST BITS are then CARRIED AWAY.

Now they're SAND on a BEACH where you FROLIC and PLAY!

The GRAINS are a mix of the SEA and LAND.

TOGETHER they make up the stuff we call SAND!

Eco-Tip!
Leave just your footprints and keep beaches clean

Watch a music video all about sand!

LET'S MAKE IT!

Sonic Prime DIY Ring Toss

SUPPLIES:

- Small recycled pizza box
- Blue paint
- Paintbrush
- Paper towel tube
- Pencil
- Craft knife (adults only)
- Scissors
- Hot glue and gun
- 5-10 gold dessert-sized paper plates (or plain paper plates and gold paint)

OPTIONAL:

- Primer
- Sonic picture and glue stick

Ask an adult to help you with this project!

Use the supplies checklist to make sure you have everything you need.

 Find the center of the box by drawing two diagonal lines from corner to corner to form an X. Place the tube at the center and trace it. Use the craft knife to cut a hole to fit the tube snugly. Push the tube down into the hole until it hits the box bottom.

 Open the box and hot glue the tube from underneath at the hole and along the tube's bottom edge. Close the box and adjust the tube to straighten it, if needed, before the glue sets. Glue the sides closed.

Prime (optional for a brighter color) the top and sides of the pizza box and allow it to dry. Paint it blue and allow it to dry.

 Cut the centers out of the paper plates to make rings. Glue two rings together to make them heavier.

Decorate the top of the tube with tape.
Use a glue stick to adhere the Sonic picture to the base.
