dormakaba closes Alliants deal, bringing more integrated hotel technology to The Hospitality Show 2026

INDIANAPOLIS, October 28, 2026 – Hospitality access solutions leader dormakaba will showcase how its expanded portfolio can help hotels reduce technology silos and create more seamless guest interactions at The Hospitality Show, November 2-4 in Miami. Following the closing this week of its previously announced acquisition of Alliants, dormakaba will demonstrate how integrated access control and digital solutions can create a better experience for guests and staff at booth #3017.

"Hotels have more technology than ever, but guests should never have to think about the complexity behind it. Hoteliers need a trusted partner who can help them navigate that challenge without limiting their options," said Darien Long, Senior Vice President, Specialty Access Control Solutions, dormakaba Americas. "Choice is at the heart of our approach. Properties should be able to work with the partners that best fit their vision, needs, and budget, while also having greater ability to deliver more connected experiences. By bringing Alliants into dormakaba, we can offer customers more ways to do exactly that."

Featured dormakaba technologies at the show include:

dormakaba Digital Wallet

dormakaba has digital room key solutions that enable hotel guests to conveniently and securely add their hotel key to their digital wallet. Guests can tap their device to unlock their room, as well as amenity locations such as the gym, spa, and business center.

dormakaba Staff Key Validator

Staff Key Validator is a keycard management solution that simplifies operations and increases security. It uses multi-layer, PIN-based authentication to reduce the front-line workload typically associated with staff keycard management and mitigate the risk posed by lost, stolen, or shared keycards.
