

Toyota 86 - Scion FR-S - Subaru BRZ Rear Differential Pinion Distance Collar

The Cusco Pinion Distance Collar is made more solid and designed to withstand the abuse of constant acceleration and deceleration, and is recommended for vehicles putting out more power & torque than the factory output.

Inside the rear differential member lies the gears and mechanisms of the limited slip differential. Once the LSD is upgraded to a clutch unit and more load and power is transferred to the rear end, factory components begin to fail. Typically, the rear pinion spacer that is located on the pinion gear shaft start to crush and cause excessive play between the pinion and ring gear. (backlash)

Toyota 86 - Scion FR-S - Subaru BRZ Rear Differential Carrier Strengthened Collar

Fight bushing deflection with the Cusco rear differential carrier strengthened collar. Replacing the factory bushings with the strengthened collar prevents unwanted rear differential carrier movement which can contribute to poor rear wheel traction. This item is beneficial for vehicles with rear differential modifications (upgraded LSD), or even just simply to replace old worn out factory bushings.
