CAROLINE de Maigret

No one embodies tousled PARISIAN COOL quite like Caroline de Maigret. The French model, music producer and co-author of the cult favorite book How to Be Parisian Wherever You Are: Love, Style and Bad Habits is also a CHANEL ambassador and face of the house's new GABRIELLE BAG campaign. Fittingly, the versatile quilted accessory is the perfect travel companion for her recent Golden State adventures: "I'm a 24-hour girl," she says of her day-to-night style philosophy. "I like the idea of not knowing where I'm going, but that [the bag] will fit wherever I am." chanel.com; cdmdiary.com.

Shutters on the Beach

"My favorite hotel here, because when you come from Paris to L.A., you want palm trees, sun and sea."

Joshua Tree

"What's nice about the desert and California in general is it's really a family place—fun for kids and adults. My son can climb the rocks and look at the cacti."
