

Aptean EDI

Go Beyond Your ERP

Fully Integrated. Fully Managed.
Complexity-free.

What is Aptean EDI?

Aptean's Electronic Data Interchange (EDI) lets businesses seamlessly exchange documents and data in a secure, standard electronic format between companies, customers or vendors. EDI replaces paper-based documents, such as purchase orders, quote requests and invoices.

Through this automation, organizations save time and eliminate costly, manual processing errors. EDI does this by moving information from one organization's business system to another with the help of a data integration solution that translates the information in a standard document format. Many trading partners even require EDI transactions as a qualification to do business.

Benefits of EDI: Streamline Your Processes

- Strengthened Supplier Relationships - Improves cash flow and reduces order-to-cash cycles.
- Enhanced Visibility - Provides real-time insight into all transactions and corresponding documents.
- Increased Data Security - Tracking and storing data is easier for auditing purposes, ensuring that your company meets shifting industry compliance standards.
- Improved Order Accuracy - Direct connections to in-house business systems ensure rapid and accurate order processing.

Why Aptean EDI?

Aptean EDI is integrated directly with our ERP solutions to allow for more efficient order processing. Automating routine processes translates to faster transactions, fewer errors and a more optimized supply chain.

Aptean EDI is fully managed by our industry experts – so you can leave complexity and compliance concerns to us while you focus on the core of your business.

- › Concrete ROI – Our fully managed services allow you to avoid the expense and stress of maintaining your own EDI integration, saving your organization time, money and resources.
- › One Trusted Partner – No need to have a VAN account or additional translation software. Aptean EDI has a built-in connector to your Aptean ERP to streamline transaction processing without the need for a 3rd party connector.
- › Industry Experts – Our industry-specific EDI specialists have extensive insight into the intricacies of your industry and its segments so they can better serve your business and its specific requirements.
- › Guaranteed Compliance – Aptean’s dedicated experts have a deep understanding of the strict regulations and ever-changing processes your trading partners require, ensuring you won’t have to worry about compliance.
- › Fast Turnaround – Because we know your trading partners, we can implement new trading maps and changes accurately and seamlessly. Our dedicated support team quickly addresses any issues that arise so you can continue focusing on your business.
