

Becoming a Sustainable Food and Beverage Business

For the Planet and Your Bottom Line

85% of the UK and Ireland food processors, manufacturers and distributors Aptean surveyed are making a significant effort to become more sustainable

Doing your part for the planet is important — but the top motivating factor for sustainability is better financial results.

In 2022, sustainability leaders had higher revenue growth compared to aspirers and laggards.

Going into this year, the outlook is even better for those businesses that are at the forefront of the sustainability movement.

Actual 2022 Revenue Growth (%):

Expected 2023 Revenue Growth (%):

Sub-Industries Leading in Sustainability

1. Fresh Produce

2. Bakery

3. Dairy

Sub-Industries Aspiring in Sustainability

1. Meat

2. Beverages

3. Snacks

Ready to Explore Sustainability Further?

- » For a high-level view, check out Top Sustainability Resources for Food and Beverage Businesses.
- » Aspire to get leaner and greener with 4 Ways Industry-Specific Solutions Can Help Drive More Sustainability.
- » Learn what it takes to be a leader with our Food Industry Playbook on Sustainable Production and Distribution.

