I. What is this product?

Type: The product is an over-the-counter (OTC) Leveraged Forward derivatives contract, linked to the exchange rate between the Sterling Dollar (GBP) and the US Dollar (USD) with a predefined term, without capital protection against market risk.

Intended Retail Investor: This product is not designed to be marketed to a specific type of investor or to fulfill a specific investment objective or investment strategy. A retail investor should become familiar with the characteristics of this product to make an informed decision on whether or not this product fits their investment needs. If in doubt, a Retail investor should seek investment advice relating to this product.

Term: The expiration date of the product is Thursday, March 26, 2026. The term of the product is 183 days. The product does not provide the option that if certain extraordinary events occur, you and/or the product manufacturer can terminate the product early. Therefore the product cannot be terminated. You may nevertheless enter into an additional counter transaction that offsets the economical effect of this contract. The figures of the performance scenarios and cost tables below are not annualized and refer to the recommended holding period, therefore they cannot be directly compared to figures from other products with a different recommended holding period.

Objectives: The product is a complex financial instrument linked to the GBP/USD exchange rate. The theoretical advantage you gain by entering into this product is provides guaranteed protection at the strike rate for the notional amount (Scenario A). Possible disadvantages include if the spot rate fixes above the strike rate, you will be obligated to deal the leveraged amount at the strike rate (Scenario B). Do not use this product if the strike rate and amounts are not feasible for your business, you do not understand the possible scenarios, advantages or disadvantages of this strategy, or the use of this product is out of line with your treasury policy.

II. What are the risks and what could I get in return?

Summary risk Indicator

Lower Risk < (1) (2) (3) (4) (5) (6) (7) > Higher Risk

The risk indicator assumes you keep the product until the end of the recommended holding period. You may not be able to end your product early. You may have to pay significant extra costs to end your product early.

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you. We have classified this product as 7 out of 7, which is the highest risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance at a very high level, and poor market conditions are very likely to impact the capacity of the product manufacturer to pay you. Be aware of currency risk. You will receive payments in a different currency, so the final return you will get depends on the exchange rate between the two currencies. This risk is not considered in the indicator shown above. If we are not able to pay you what is owed, you could incur significant losses.

Performance Scenarios

Scenario A: If the GBPUSD 'Spot Rate' fixes below the 'Strike Rate' of 1.3500, you achieve the 'Notional Amount' of GBP 500,000 at the 'Strike Rate'. This expiry will be 'in the money'.

Scenario B: If the GBPUSD 'Spot Rate' fixes above the 'Strike Rate' of 1.3500, you achieve the 'Leveraged Amount' of GBP 1,000,000 at the 'Strike Rate'. This expiry will be 'out the money'.

III. What happens if Cambridge Mercantile Risk Management (UK) Ltd is unable to pay out?

If the product manufacturer becomes insolvent or otherwise unable to deliver under the product, you should in the worst case be prepared to suffer a total loss of your investment. Your loss would not be covered by any investor compensation or guarantee scheme.

IV. What are the costs?

The costs associated with this product are not charged directly to you as an investor. Instead, Cambridge Mercantile Risk Management (UK) earns revenue through the bid-ask spread. This means there are no upfront or ongoing fees and transaction costs are implicit, arising from the spread between the buying and selling prices. Depending on your credit terms, you may have to pay variation margin to satisfy a margin call obligation to us subject to market movements. Failure to do so can result in position being terminated early.

V. How long should I hold it and can I take my money out early?

Recommended holding period: 183 Days

The product is designed to be held until the maturity date. It does not provide for an early termination right of the investor other than the termination right upon occurrence of certain extraordinary events set out above under "Term" in Section I, if any. Therefore, investors should be prepared to stay invested for the term of the product.

VI. How can I complain?

Complaints about the product, the conduct of the product manufacturer and/or the person advising on or selling the product, should be addressed in writing to Cambridge Mercantile Corp. (UK) Limited, 4th Floor, 8-10 Moorgate, London EC2R 6DA England, by email to complaintscb@corpay.com, or by contacting directly the person advising or selling the product.
