Workhuman for Mobile

Join our force for good – on the go!

Unleash your employees' hidden potential, ignite unparalleled productivity and engagement, and cultivate a magnetic workplace culture that attracts and retains the best talent – all while improving your company's bottom line.

Social Recognition® – the world's #1 employee recognition platform – relies on easy access and quick participation among your workforce, both of which are guaranteed through the Workhuman® mobile app. Equip and motivate your people to easily give and receive impactful recognition to create meaningful connections, boost program engagement, and experience the power of recognition done right, anytime and anywhere.

“In Morgan, everything revolves around the hourly folks. That’s where our turnover is – on the factory floor. So, whenever we put a program in place, the first thing we solve for is how we get traction within that population. ... That includes access to the awards feed and this platform [on tablets in work centers]. Separate from that, we’re pushing the Workhuman app they can use on their personal devices.”

Set the standard in employee experience with:

Mobile app access. Employees with a company email address and/or SSO access, even if they are otherwise offline or deskless, can download our mobile app to access the full Social Recognition experience on their personal or company-issued device. The mobile app is accessible and secure, so your workforce can easily and safely engage with recognition on their own time and interest.

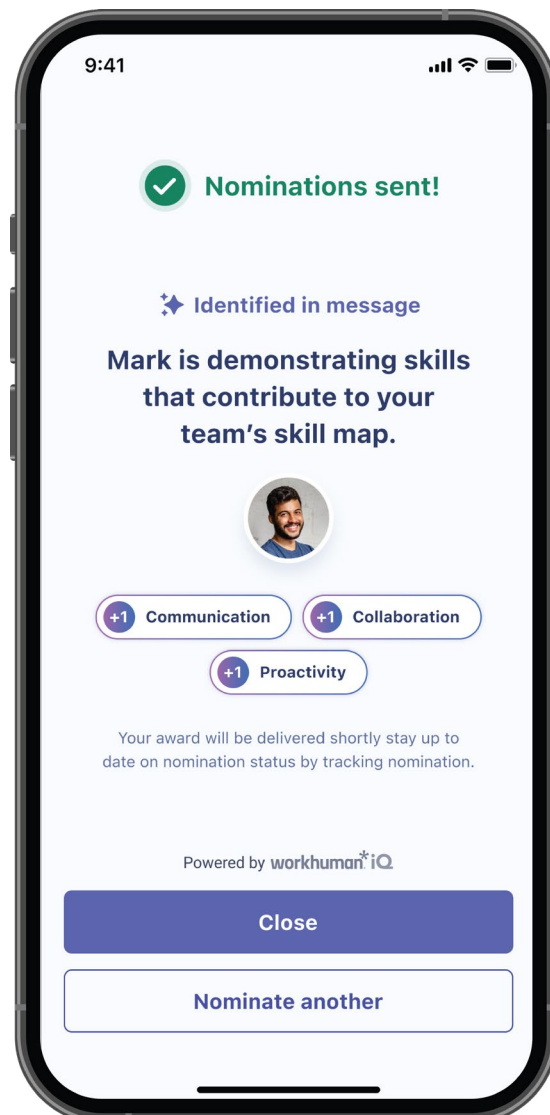

Peer-to-peer recognition. Empower employees at every level to recognize and reward one another for great work. It's as easy as nominating a colleague for an award, personalizing the message and points value, sending it off for approval – and making someone's day.

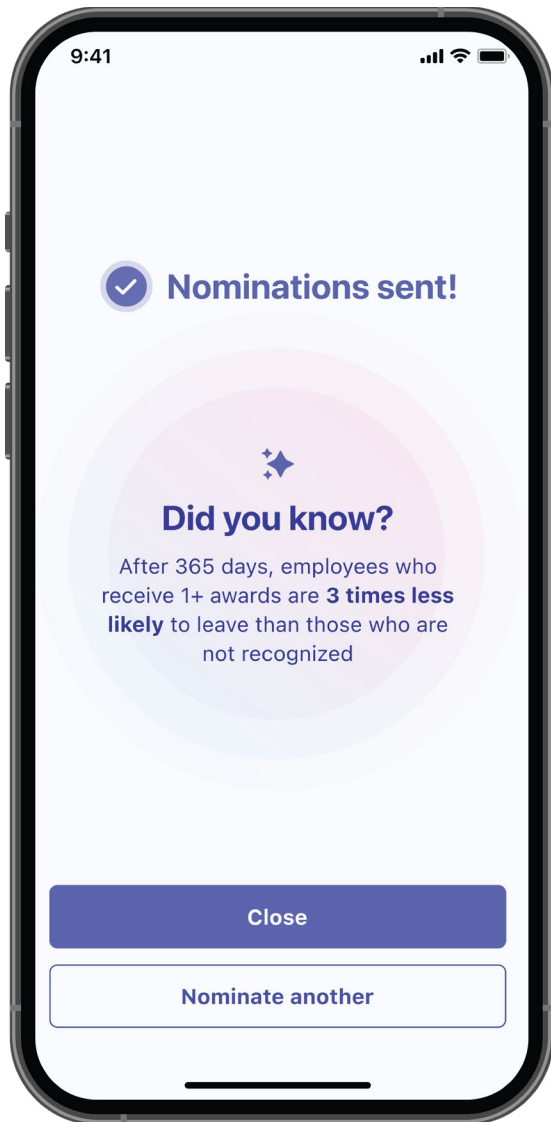

Global rewards. Employees in 180+ countries can redeem points for merchandise, gift cards, experiences, and global charity options in their own language. Go further with Reward Stories, which turns a redemption moment into a reflection on contributions and collaboration, facilitating a virtuous circle where one good thing leads to another.

Intuitive AI coaching. Recognition Advisor coaches users to write authentic, meaningful recognition messages by evaluating specificity, impact, and more to keep recognition aligned to company values and strategic initiatives. And Inclusion Advisor is the industry's first DEI coach. Both are built right in – no additional setup needed.

Award management. Empower your program owners to receive and approve individual awards from your employees. Streamline your award approvals so you can ensure recognition is aligned with your cultural values and business goals.

Actionable insights. Access Workhuman® iQ Snapshots: personalized data, insights, and best practices tailored to each employee's team, role, and function. Use these data points to monitor value and goal alignment, transform into a skills-based organization, and identify retention risks early to keep key talent engaged.

Feedback and performance. With Conversations® – now available in the mobile app – feedback can be requested and received by anyone at any time, and your managers can use it to gather input and provide a more holistic view of your employees. Create a culture of ongoing feedback, drive high-quality check-ins, and reimagine your performance philosophy.

Don't settle for just checking a box on recognition. Get the Workhuman mobile app today.
