

THE CHOCOLATE CHIP COOKIE EFFECT

Why are fake pills so dangerous?

They contain fentanyl—a super potent synthetic opioid that can be fatal in tiny amounts.

These pills aren't made in real labs. Some may have almost no fentanyl, while others contain lethal amounts.

It's like chocolate chips in cookies—you never know how many you'll get in each one. That's why the only safe choice is to avoid all pills not prescribed to you by a doctor.
