Remove end supports

If you're adding the storage basket to an already assembled Floyd Bed, first disassemble your ratchet straps so you can remove the two end supports on the side of the bed where you want to attach the storage basket.

If you're setting up the storage basket with a newly purchased Floyd Bed, skip to step 2.

Attach storage basket to bed frame

Identify the front of the basket by locating the tabs sticking out at the end of the slides.

3

Attach end supports to basket

From the back of the basket, slide each end support onto the basket until the slides are fully engaged (x2).

4

Attach storage basket to bedframe

As an assembled unit, slide the storage basket onto the panel. Make sure to align the end supports with the middle supports on the bed frame.

5

Re-tighten the ratchet straps

To complete your set up, re-tighten your ratchet straps!

A. Open ratchet
all the way.

B. Feed strap through slot and pull until taut.

Note: if slot is in a different position than shown, rotate the cylinder by hand until it is at a 45° angle.

C. Pull up on bar to close the ratchet.

D. Fully close ratchet and then crank back and forth until strap is tight.

6

All done!

Now, don't be shy—we'd love to see your bed storage's new home!
