

Life Without Barriers supports a constitutionally enshrined First Nations Voice to Parliament

Life Without Barriers' supports the Uluru Statement from the Heart in its entirety. The Uluru Statement invites all people across Australia to join in a future that recognises and celebrates the strength and wisdom of the First Peoples of this country. We embrace this invitation and extend our support for a First Nations Voice to be enshrined in the Constitution.

We believe a Voice to Parliament is a significant step to recognising the important place Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander People hold in the history and future of Australia and will offer practical solutions for generations to come.

We also believe Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Peoples are best placed to inform the policies and laws that impact on their lives. A Voice to Parliament will pave an enduring path to improved self-determination, outcomes, opportunity and leadership.

Life Without Barriers' support for a Voice to Parliament will be practical, respectful and collaborative. We commit to sharing information and accessible resources to help people we support, our staff, carers and families and other members of the community to understand a Voice to Parliament means for the future of our country.
