Since Metrie began attending the event in its inaugural year, we have continued to grow our participation in the event in both attendance and the number of honorees recognized. We are excited to announce Metrie's 2023 Top Women in the Industry as recognized by HBSDealer:

Rising Stars:

- Tori Hegg, Territory Manager
- Amber Tidd, Operations Manager

Business Excellence:

- Lissa Mauksch, Director, Integrated Business Planning

Metrie had a record number of nominees for this year's Top Women awards. We also increased our number of winners by 50%. "This is a testament to the dedication of Metrie's Women's Network and our culture of inclusivity," commented Melissa Spencer, Chief People Officer, Metrie. "Metrie believes that we need to do more to enable women to succeed and be better represented as a reflection of the communities we serve. We are proud to celebrate Tori, Amber, Lissa, and Darlene, and all the women who were nominated across Metrie and the industry."

As a platinum sponsor of the Top Women in the Industry celebration, we look forward to our participation in the event, including our VP of Supply Chain, Tom Eaton, hosting a session on the important topic of male allyship. It's going to be a great event!
