Expedited Public Spaces Protection Order 2022

The Anti-social Behaviour, Crime and Policing Act 2014

Stockport Metropolitan Borough Council in the exercise of its powers under section 59A of the Anti-Social Behaviour, Crime and Policing Act 2014 (the Act) hereby makes the following Order.

This Order is made on the 25th of November 2022 and shall have effect for a period of 6 months thereafter, unless discharged, varied or extended under the Council's statutory powers.

General provisions

The Council is satisfied on reasonable grounds that activities carried on as part of a protest or demonstration in the vicinity of a Site in the Restricted Area:

- have had, or are likely to have, the effect of:
 - harassing or intimidating members of staff or volunteers at the Site;
 - harassing or intimidating persons using the services of the Site;
 - impeding the provision of services by staff or volunteers at the Site; or
 - impeding access by persons seeking to use the services of the Site and

- that the effect, or likely effect, of those activities:
 - is, or is likely to be, of a persistent and continuing nature;
 - is, or is likely to be, such as to make those activities unreasonable; and
 - justifies the restrictions and prohibitions imposed by this Order

The activities that are taking place include protests and demonstrations against Coronavirus (Covid-19) vaccinations at vaccination clinics; demonstrators banging on windows and shouting whilst vaccinations are being administered; entering the vaccination clinic and shouting "murderers" to staff members, accusing them of genocide and following staff members out of the clinic shouting "child murderer"; threats to staff members; people attending to be vaccinated being approached by protesters and demonstrators causing them to feel harassed and intimidated and at least one person leaving without having their vaccination that day.

The Council is satisfied that the prohibitions and restrictions imposed by this Order are reasonable to impose in order to prevent the effects of the activities from continuing, occurring or recurring, or to reduce those effects or to reduce the risk of its continuance, occurrence or recurrence.

The Council has had particular regard to the rights and freedoms set out in Article 10 (right of freedom of expression) and Article 11 (right of freedom of assembly) of the European Convention on Human Rights and has concluded that any restrictions on such rights and freedoms imposed by the Order are lawful, necessary and proportionate.

Appeals

Any challenge to this order must be made in the High Court by an interested person within six weeks of it being made. An interested person is someone who lives in, regularly works in or visits the Restricted Areas. This means that only those who are directly affected by the restrictions have the power to challenge. The right to challenge also exists where an order is varied by the Council. Interested persons can challenge the validity of this order on two grounds: that the Council did not have the power to make the order, or to include particular prohibitions or requirements; or that one of the requirements of the legislation has not been complied with. When an application is made, the High Court can decide to suspend the operation of the order pending the court's decision, in part or in totality. The High Court has the ability to uphold or quash the order or any of its prohibitions or requirements.
