A growing impact in supporting
Ontario's economy and communities

After more than 60 years proudly serving hard-working members across Ontario, OMERS impact on the province's economy and the communities those members call home continues to expand.

As a pension plan that invests in high-quality assets and pays billions of dollars per year in stable, secure retirement benefits, that impact reaches beyond payments to individual members, positively contributing to hundreds of thousands of households, both urban and rural. In a 2023 report developed for OMERS by the Canadian Centre for Economic Analysis (CANCEA), this impact is brought to life through distinct, easy-to-understand data points. For more information and the methodology behind the research, the full reports are available on the Social and Economic Value of the Plan pages of www.omers.com.
