Ways to Remember

After a burial or cremation, there are lots of ways to remember someone. It's a very personal choice, and something that can help give you comfort now and in years to come.

Our memorial items that hold ashes come in a range of shapes and sizes, meaning the amount of ashes each product holds can vary. You could consider dividing the ashes and putting some into smaller mementos, such as jewellery or specially-designed ornaments, to share with friends and family.

If you'd like more information and prices, please see the separate price list or speak to your Funeral Director. You can also find more information and prices online at coop.co.uk/memorials

Scatter...

After a cremation, you could choose to scatter ashes. Ashes can be scattered at a special place or simply at the crematorium by hand or by using a scatter tube or similar.

Bury...

Choose a fitting casket and bury the ashes at a cemetery or at home. You may want to mark the location with a headstone, plaque or a living memorial.

Wear...

Fingerprints, signatures and ashes can all be kept close by, incorporating them into a piece of treasured jewellery to wear for years to come.

Grow...

A living memorial such as a memorial tree may be fitting, particularly if your loved one enjoyed gardening and the outdoors. It can provide a place to visit and reflect on past memories.

Keep...

Treasure their personal possessions and the ashes themselves with a lasting tribute. Precious photographs and clothes can be transformed into a lasting memento or keep the ashes close with an elegant urn.

Commemorate...

Hold a memorial event with friends and family. Make the most of the opportunity to share your favourite memories, photos or stories of happy times. Choose your own way to remember someone at a place and time that suits you.

Aerial Ashes

Aerial Ashes is an airborne ashes-scattering service. It uses drones to allow you to say goodbye to a loved one in special, memorable locations over land and sea, including favourite beauty spots and sports grounds. Our partner Aerial Ashes will help you find a suitable space to scatter the ashes and will handle all the necessary permissions. Together with Aerial Ashes, we'll guide you through everything so you can say your best goodbye.

We know saying goodbye is very personal, so you can attend the scattering with friends and family, or you can also choose not to be present. If you prefer, the service can be recorded for an additional cost.

Our partner, Aerial Ashes, will guide you through the process. You can be as involved or not, as you would like

The service involves using a drone which is specially designed to hold the ashes of one person and release them whilst flying

Whether it's a reading, a toast, or a peaceful silence, we can help you say goodbye your way in the most meaningful place

Memorial Jewellery

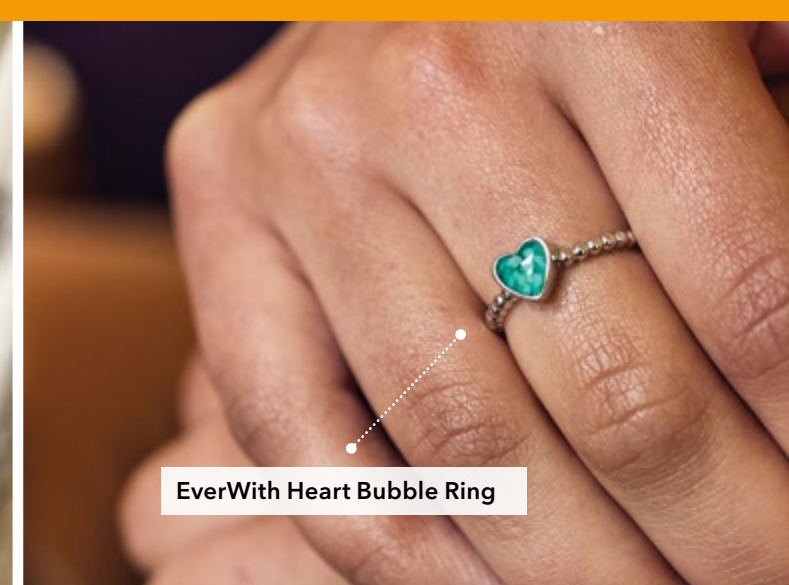

Memorial jewellery is a beautiful way to keep loved ones close to you every day. We offer a range of items which contain ashes, as well as remembrance jewellery without ashes. Jewellery can be personalised with engraving, with some offering bespoke fingerprint engraving too. Choose from a range of jewellery to suit the whole family, that's attractive for all ages. Memorial jewellery enables ashes to be shared among friends and family, giving everyone a special keepsake.
