Your Choices

We understand how important it is for you to do right by your loved ones when choosing a final resting place for their ashes. Time needs to be taken to reflect on the choices available and to make the right decision for you and your family. We're here to help and guide you with that decision and to explain all of the options you have.

This brochure sets out a carefully chosen range, including caskets and urns for burial of ashes, containers for scattering ashes, and urns and keepsakes for keeping ashes at home. We also have a choice of jewellery. You may wish to keep a small amount of ashes for a keepsake and choose to inter or scatter the remainder.

For Burial - Pages 4-9

Perhaps you would like to have the ashes buried. You may also want to arrange a gathering of loved ones to say farewell. Your Funeral Director will discuss this with you when you're making the funeral arrangements.

At Home - Pages 10-15

For some, keeping the ashes of a loved one close, at home where they belong, can bring great comfort and reassurance.

Keepsakes - Pages 16-19

You may want to give small keepsakes to family and friends so that they too will have a special remembrance of the person they love. All of the keepsakes in the range are designed to contain a small quantity of ashes.

In the Garden - Pages 20-22

This selection of natural stone items are designed to sit harmoniously within an outdoor setting.

For Scattering - Pages 23-25

Maybe you would prefer to have the ashes scattered at the crematorium, or scatter them at a place that had special meaning for your loved one.

Jewellery - Locketts for Ashes - Page 26

Beautifully handcrafted locketts, whether you want to wear it or simply hold on to it.

Ashes into Glass - Pages 27-28

A selection of memorial jewellery and paperweights providing a unique tribute to a loved one.

Right by you. Right by your loved ones.

We'll discuss the final resting place of the ashes with you and support you in making your choices.

Burial

Ashes into Glass Jewellery is a story

A story of pride, of strength, of courage. A story of family and warmth, of smiles & laughter. A story of romance, of hugs and of kisses. An inner beauty, a kind heart, a warm smile. A story of love, a story of devotion and a story of a bond that cannot be broken.

Your Ashes into Glass Jewellery will remind you that your loved one is with you. In a fleeting thought or a lingering memory, a song on the radio or a familiar face. By wearing it or just holding it in your hand, you will connect with your loved one and share these special moments together.

Your own personal message is delicately engraved onto your piece of jewellery.

You have a choice of five classic colours.

Creation Process

Your loved one's cremation ashes, coloured glass crystals and molten glass are layered together to create a beautiful, lasting tribute to the one you hold dear.

Ashes into Glass Jewellery is hand-crafted by Bill Rhodes and James Watts who are genuine masters of glass and jewellery creation. Testament to their fine reputation is the Ashes into Glass facebook page, where hundreds of thank you messages have been posted over the years.

The metal part of your jewellery is hand-cast in pure sterling silver, 9ct gold or white gold. Rings are hand made to fit your finger and pendants come complete with an 18" hallmarked chain. We require a small amount of ashes, only one teaspoon per item.
