

RACO Expands G Series Bracket Product Line

January 12, 2026

RACO has expanded the Ultimate G Series to include additional boxes and floor mount supports, providing greater flexibility and a wider range of installation solutions.

The product line now offers boxes equipped with G Series brackets, designed to support both EMT and Rigid conduit. This innovation gives contractors the flexibility to select the conduit type that best fits their project requirements.

These innovative brackets are designed for fast, secure mounting of any RACO 4" or 4-11/16" box and corresponding mud ring. Their gangable design makes it easy to add boxes to either side, creating a cohesive installation. Once in place, the brackets provide hands-free installation.

These boxes are compatible with an extensive selection of fittings, ensuring adaptability across multiple applications. The new G Series components from RACO provide the reliability and flexibility required by professionals in commercial, industrial, and residential environments.

Learn more about Ultimate G Series brackets from RACO today, contact your Hubbell sales representative or visit <https://www.hubbell.com/raco/en>.

