

JESSY LANZA – FEB 2020 BIO

Jessy Lanza is a producer, vocalist and DJ from Hamilton, Canada who currently lives in Queens New York. She has released two studio albums; Pull My Hair Back and Oh No on London's Hyperdub label . Both records were met with near universal praise and featured in The Guardian, New York Times, Pitchfork and more.

Jessy has toured across North America, Europe, Australia and Asia and performed on the BBC (where she had a year long show on Radio 1), KCRW, arte.tv in Europe and Channel 4 in the UK. Working alongside producer Jeremy Greenspan, Jessy has crafted a new and vibrant pop aesthetic that is both universal, energetic, yet personal and introspective. The material exists on a distinct polarity of big and small, global and local, populist and personal; and clarifies a modern and crucial voice in pop music.

Her new single Lick In Heaven drops on 20th February, followed by a European tour.
