Saia LTL Freight Opens Fifth Terminal in New York State

JOHNS CREEK, Ga. – Aug. 1, 2022 - Saia Inc. (NASDAQ: SAIA) announced today that Saia LTL Freight has opened a new terminal near Binghamton, New York. The new facility is the fifth for Saia in the Empire State and is situated to provide customers with enhanced service in the region, and throughout the carrier's network, as the company continues to fill in geography.

"As we've said, getting closer to our customers to provide higher levels of service is an important part of our value proposition," said Vice President of Operations, East Jared Mull. "The support of both our operations and sales teams has helped to make our expansion strategy across the region and the country a tremendous success."

In the second quarter alone, Saia has opened four new terminals, in new markets. Year-to-date, the company has opened a total of six facilities including Binghamton. Through the latter half of the year, an additional seven to 10 new terminals are slated to open.

"Not only have we seen a tremendous response from existing customers, shippers who are asking us to handle their freight needs in these markets, we also are growing our customer base as new businesses hear about us and our service," Mull explained. "Our brand is strong because of our commitment to putting the customers' needs first."

Saia continues to recruit both city and line drivers for the Binghamton terminal as well as for other facilities located in the state. The company currently operates its Driver Academy program at 10 locations throughout its network and in some areas has partnered with technical colleges and truck driving schools in an effort to fill open positions.
