

The FluidLogic system abides and provides so that individuals can put all of themselves into their activity/work. By removing simply one distraction (hydration), the athlete, soldier or enthusiast can focus exclusively on the tasks at hand. No distractions = optimized focus = optimal performance.

For the utility that the mounted hydration system offers, the price is definitely worth it. I save on plastic water bottles, it frees up space in my bag and it keeps my drink cool all day long.

Andrew Liang

LAX police officer

FluidLogic changes the way I hydrate while on duty. Having hydration at the touch of a button, for a full shift, allows me to feel fresh even after my shift.
