Paul Rubenstein

SVP & Chief People Officer at Visier

Paul is responsible for the culture and talent that powers Visier's innovation and growth. He leads an HR organization that emphasizes innovation in talent management, respect for organization science, effective use of people analytics and building an inclusive and diverse workplace.

Prior to joining Visier, Paul spent 20+ years consulting at the intersection of talent strategy, business strategy and HR function design, as well as being the business leader for consulting practices. He has advised clients on talent strategy, large-scale HR transformation/technology, M&A integration, shared services and change leadership. Prior to consulting he worked in the HR functions at HBO, Scholastic, and Hyatt Hotels.

Paul relocated from Brooklyn USA to Vancouver Canada where he lives with his husband and a very loyal standard poodle. He is a frequent podcast contributor on the topics of Diversity and Inclusion, creating a digital HR function and people analytics.
