

Courage

Being brave because God is with me

This week's Finish Line:
We can have courage because of who God is

Paul was being sent to Rome to stand trial before Caesar for telling people the good news about Jesus.

Paul was a prisoner. He was being sent on a ship with other prisoners, Roman soldiers, and his friend Luke.

The weather was getting bad, and Paul suggested they stop sailing.

The sailors and soldiers did not listen to Paul,
and the ship kept on sailing.

The storm was terrible! The sailors tried everything to keep the boat from sinking.

Paul told everyone that an angel from God promised they would not die, but they would be shipwrecked on an island. They needed to have courage. God would take care of them.

14!

After being in the storm 14 days, they finally hit land.
The ship crashed and broke apart.

Everyone swam for land or held on to boards.
Everyone got to land safely, just like God promised.

We can have courage because of who God is.
