

Self-Control

Giving up my way and choosing God's way

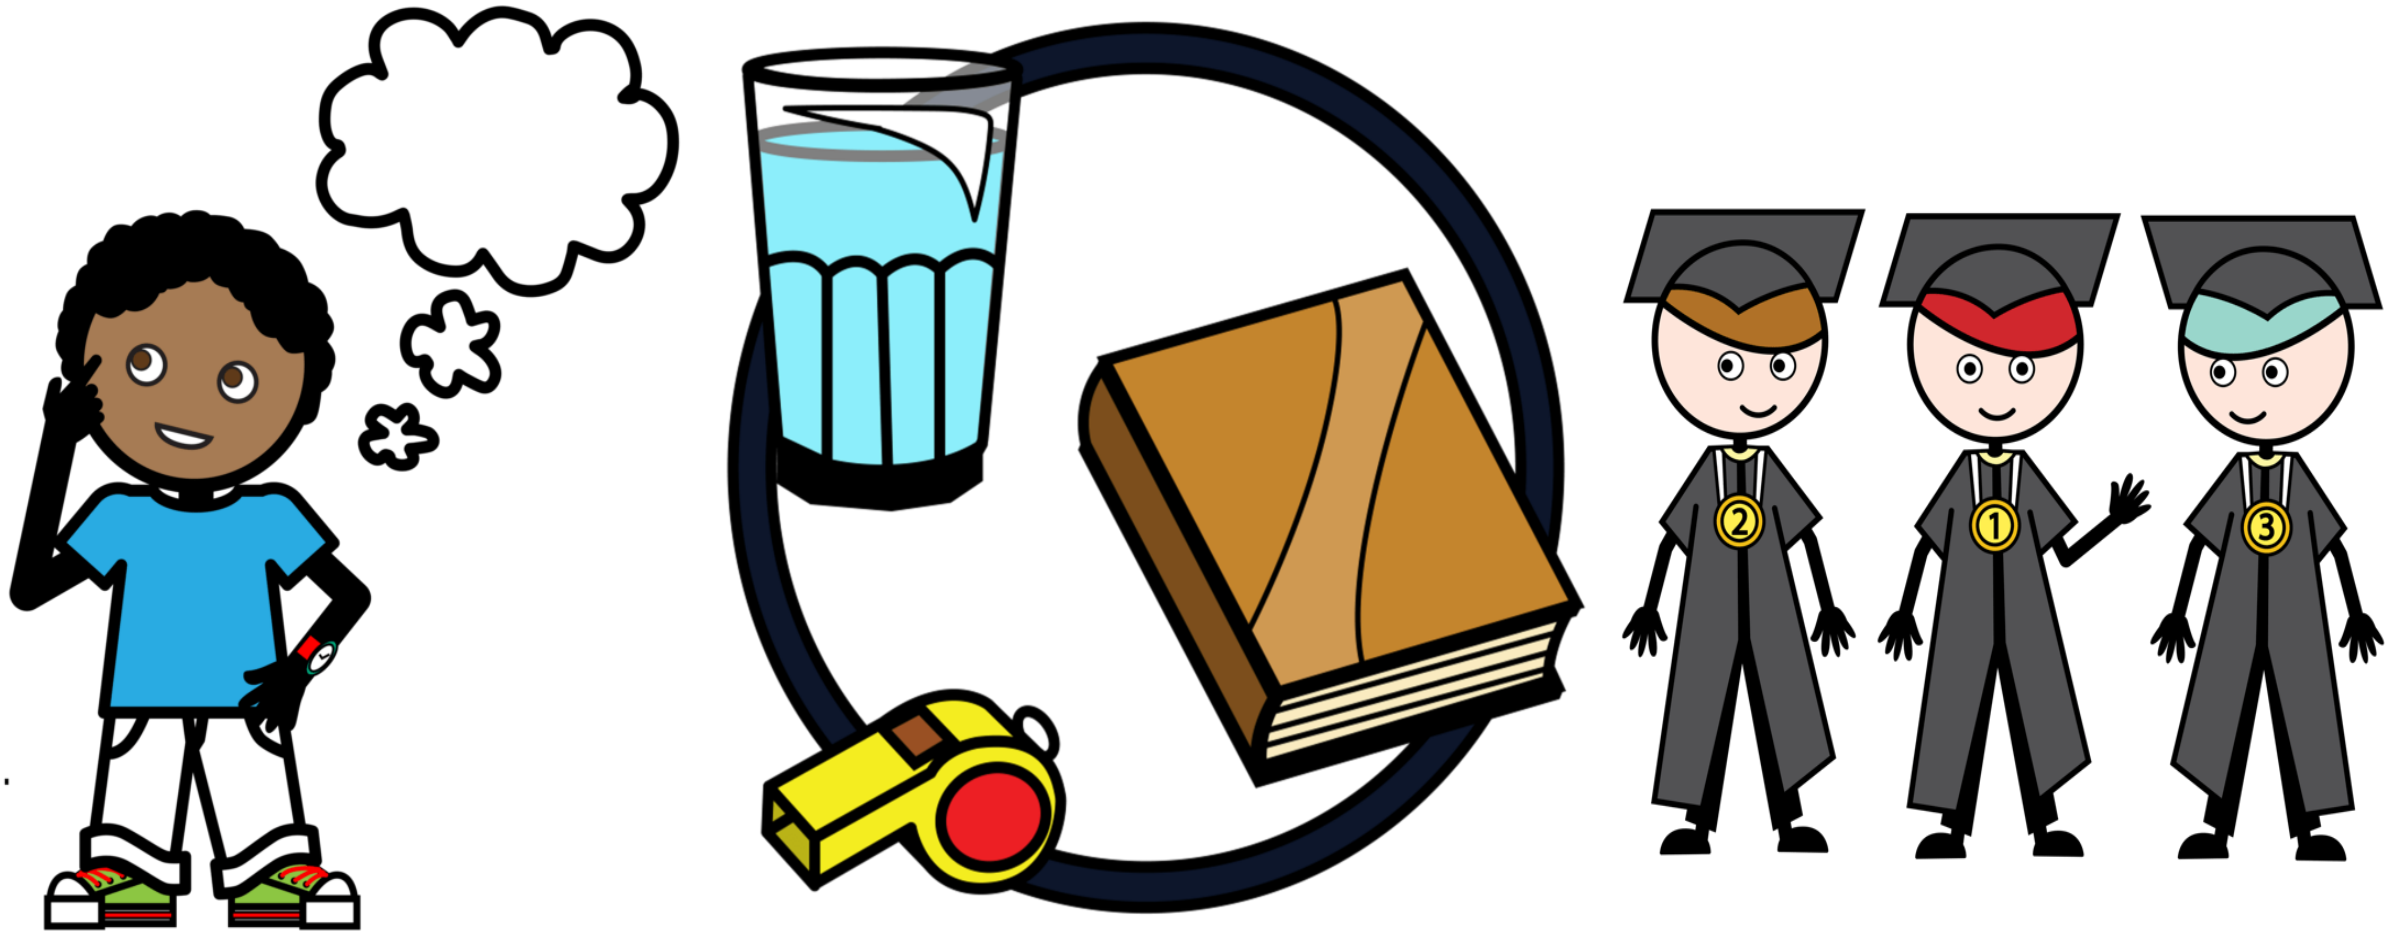

This Week's Finish Line:
We can choose to honor God with our minds

Paul wrote a letter to the church at Philippi to tell them how to honor God with their minds.

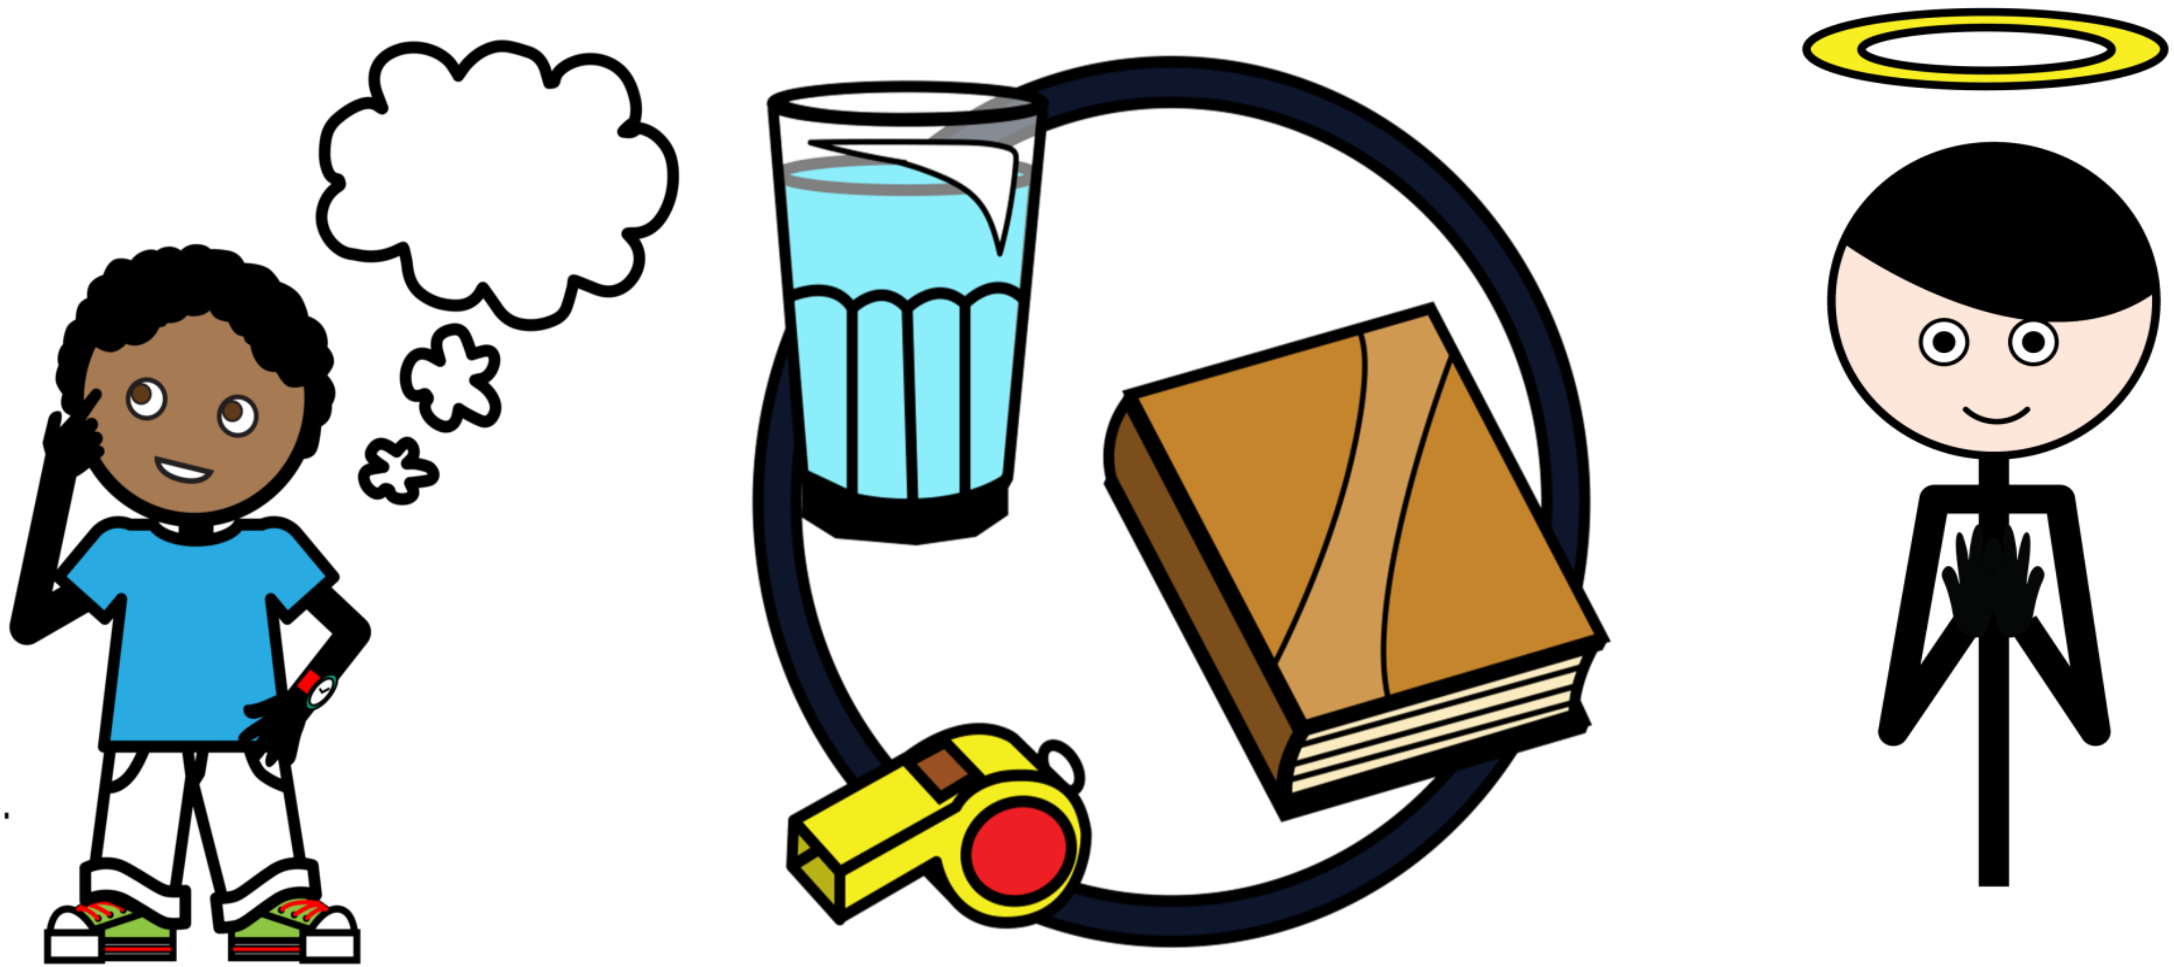

They were to think about things that were true.

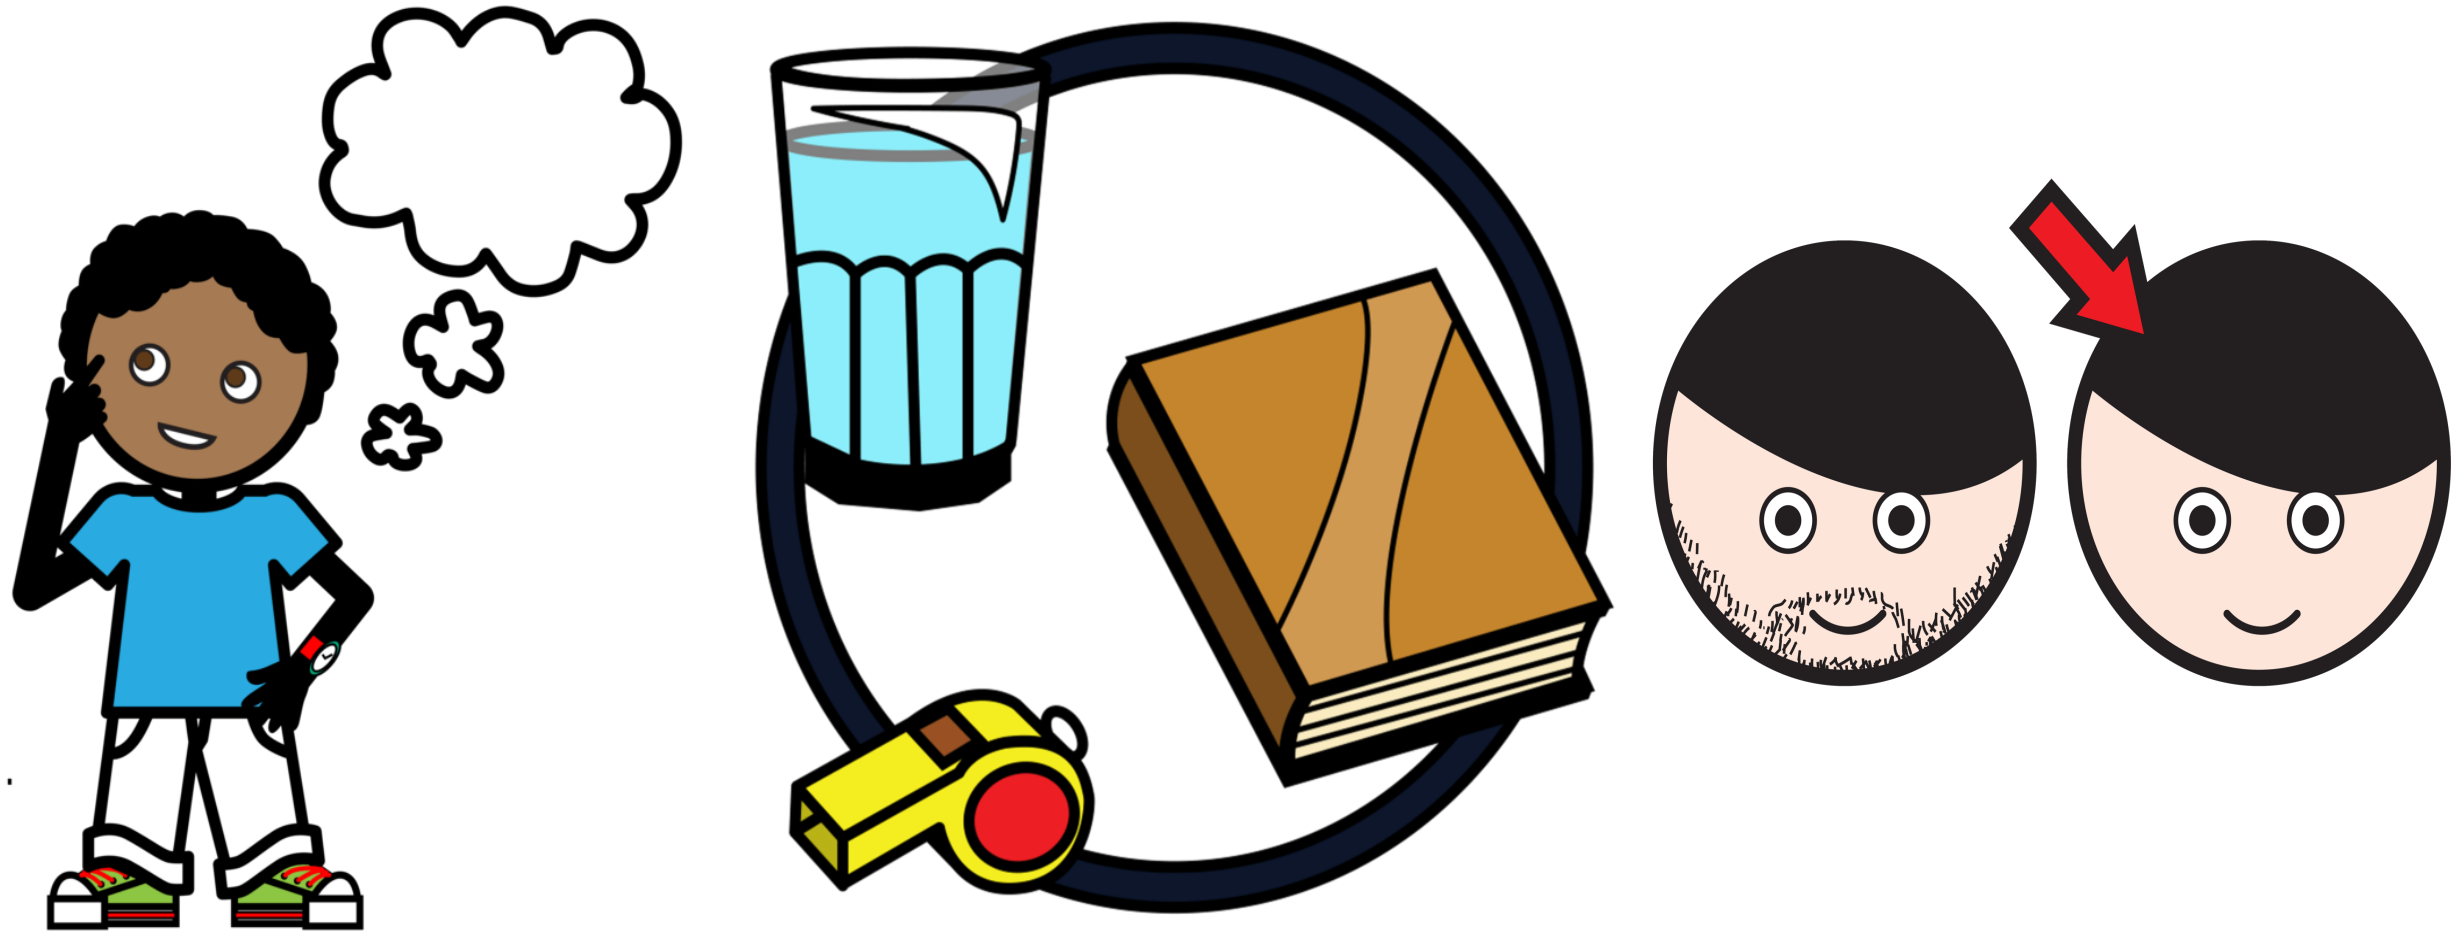

They were to think about things that had honor.

They were to think about things that were right.

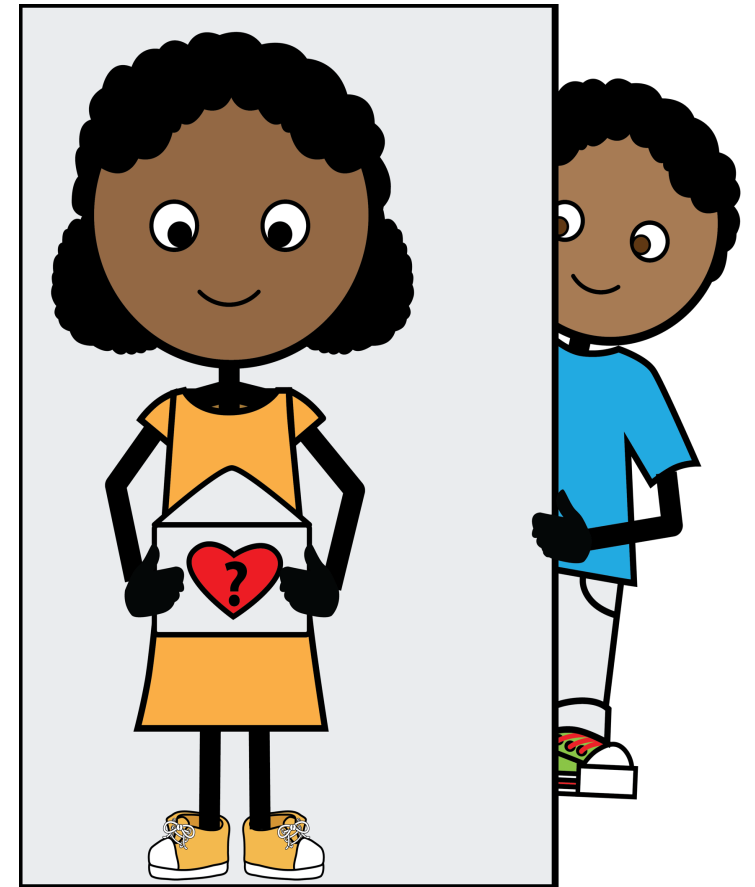

They were to think about things that were good.

They were to think about things that were pure.

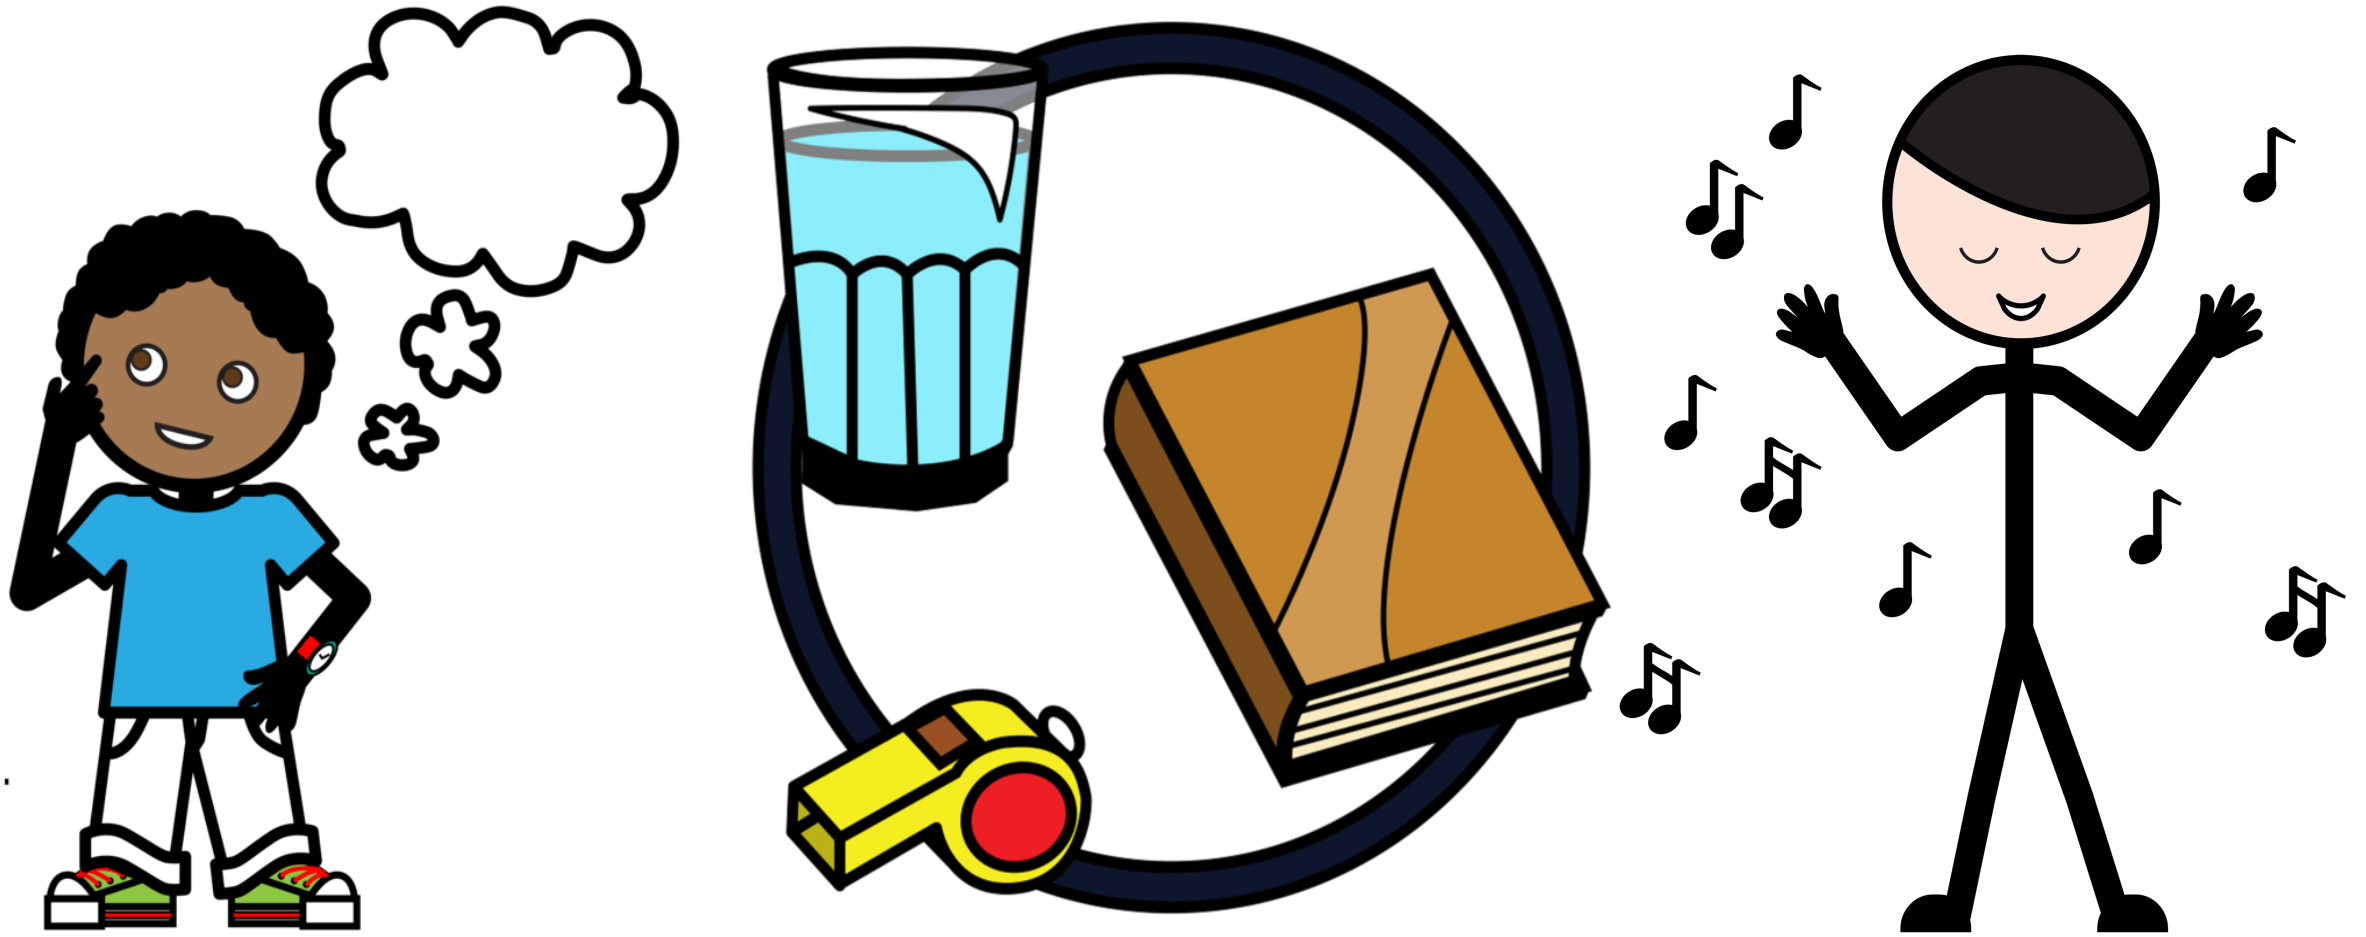

They were to think about things that were lovely.

They were to think about things that were admirable.

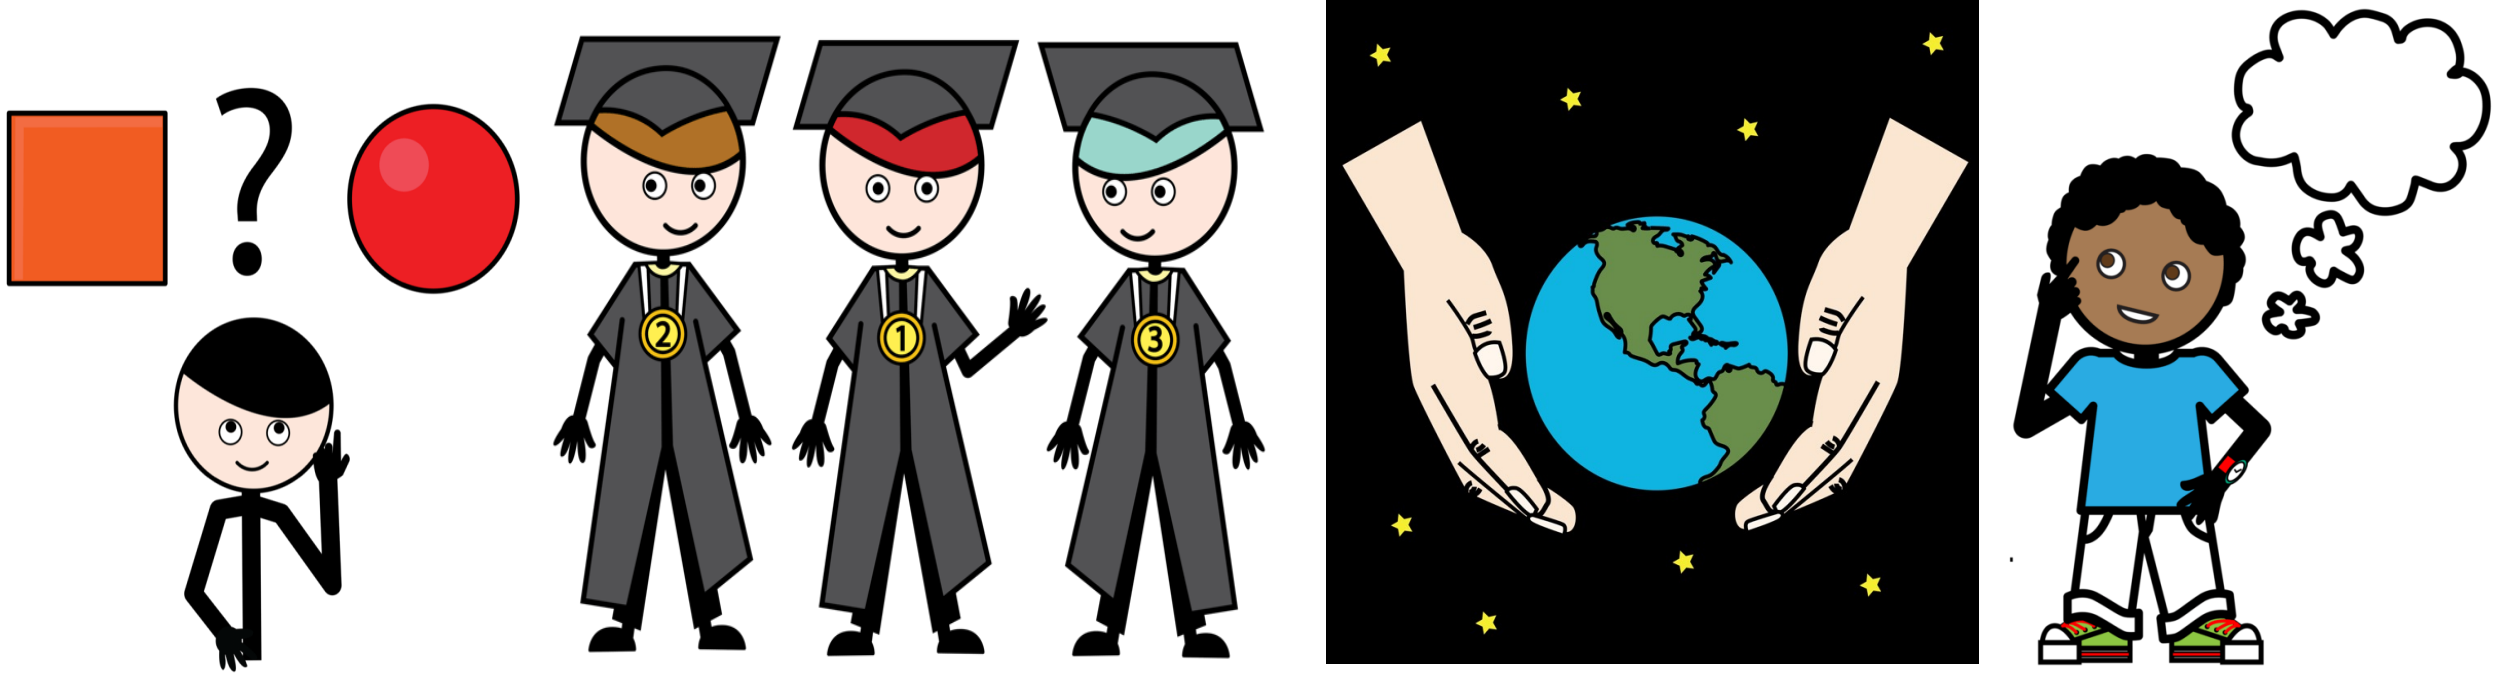

They were to think about things that were excellent.

They were to think about things that were worthy of praise.

We should think of these things too.

We can choose to honor God with our minds.
