

Elite Alfred Berg, Press Release, 9 December 2020

Elite Alfred Berg forms an Advisory Board with external specialists for the Group's sustainability work

Elite Alfred Berg has nominated an Advisory Board consisting of external specialists to support the Group's sustainability work. With its expertise the Advisory Board advises Elite Alfred Berg to further develop its responsible investment solutions and responsible business towards EAB Group's vision "By becoming the forerunner in responsible investment, we grow into the most respected Nordic expert in asset management".

The Advisory Board consists of the following members outside Elite Alfred Berg:

- Lisa Beauvilain, Executive Director, Head of Sustainability & ESG, Impax Asset Management
- Anne Larilahti, Vice President, Sustainability, Finnair
- Benjamin Maury, Head of the Department of Finance and Economics, Hanken School of Economics
- Elina Moisio, Managing Director, Partner, Miltton Networks

Lisa Beauvilain joined Impax Asset Management in London in 2010. Impax is a specialist investment manager focusing on investments in the transition to a sustainable economy. Beauvilain heads the sustainability and ESG research, including stewardship at Impax, and co-heads the impact investing work. Prior to that, she worked for eight years at Goldman Sachs in the Investment Management Division. Beauvilain is active within advisory councils and working groups aimed at developing and fostering sustainable approaches in the financial sector.

Anne Larilahti is Vice President in Sustainability at Finnair since 2019. Her main focus is in ensuring the sustainability of Finnair strategy and its operations. Previously, she has held several positions in sustainability, strategy, marketing and business development in ICT and tourism and leisure industries. Larilahti also works to progress sustainability work in different industries and environments in her position as chairman of the board of Finnish Business and Society, and as board member of Veikkaus Oy.

Benjamin Maury is a finance professor at Hanken School of Economics. He is the head of the Department of Finance and Economics and holds the Wahlroos professorship. Maury's research includes corporate governance and especially the relation between ownership structure and firm performance. Recently, he has also studied the impact of competitive advantages and sustainability on firm value.

Elina Moisio is Managing Partner at Miltton Networks and she leads Miltton's public affairs team. As experienced public affairs professional, she has a broad understanding of sustainability in political framework and a valuable insight about the changes in business landscape and demanding stakeholder expectations. Previously, Moisio has served as Special Adviser to three government ministers in Finland government. In addition, she has worked at the trade union confederation Akava. Moisio was member of the Helsinki City Council for 15 years and she was a chairman of the board in one of the companies owned by the city of Helsinki.

In addition to the external members, Chairman of the Board Therese Cedercreutz, CEO Daniel Pasternack and CIO Toni Iivonen participate in EAB Group's sustainability work.
