Empathize:

What are sellers/buyers afraid of? What do clients want from a real estate agent?

Activity: Design a survey that will help you empathize with potential real estate clients and conduct your 3-5 interviews. Document your findings.

In order to be successful agents/brokers must build:

- o a relationship: first, the person becomes aware of you, then they know you, next, they like you, and finally, they trust you.
- o credibility: The steps above help you achieve credibility and marketing also plays an important role.

Activity: Design a storyboard of how you might build a relationship with a potential real estate client. Or interview a person who had a positive experience with a real estate agent or broker.

Entrepreneurs have to be disciplined to be successful but not by nature, there are many tools and resources that can help.

Activity: Design a visual representation of how you currently manage your time and the tools, procedures, or routines you use to manage it. Is your time management helping you reach your goals? Identify tools, procedures, or routines that could address gaps you identify towards your goals.

Working with Buyers

What do you need to know when working with buyers? Buyers want help in a variety of areas like learning about a neighborhood or help with paperwork.

Read the article "How a Buyer's Agent Can Help Your Home Search"

Activity: After conducting additional research, design an infomercial or presentation to convince a buyer to work with a real estate agent.

Working with Sellers

Conduct research on how working with sellers is different from working with buyers.

Activity: Write an argumentative essay convincing a client to list their home with a real estate agent rather than selling their homes as a For Sale by Owner.

Activity: In one paragraph, write a summary of the video and the key points with supporting evidence.

Where Advertising Meets Ethics

The National Association of REALTORS® Code of Ethics and Standards of Practice's Article 12 sets the standards for advertising in real estate. Doing the right thing is not only an industry expectation. Agents and brokers can get in trouble, and even lose their licenses! What does it mean to be ethical when advertising? Read the article above the find out.

Activity: Design a flyer or short video for agents to inform them about the Code of Ethics and Standards of Practice and dos and don'ts.

Real estate investment: Understanding How to Make Money in Real Estate

Generates income through renting property either short term or long term and possibly through sites like Airbnb.

Finds or creates value in an underpriced or unimproved property and sells it for a profit.

Offers financing for home mortgages or invests in Real Estate Investment Trusts, companies that own, and in most cases operate, income-producing real estate

Activity: Select one of the options above or research another way to make money in real estate. Design a presentation to a potential investor with no experience in real estate and convince them where they should invest given the current local market conditions. Assume the amount they have to invest is the median price for a home in your area.

Setting Goals & Staying Motivated

Setting goals is important for personal growth, but why is it critical in a business context?

- Real estate agents or brokers set goals to be more successful: obtain more clients and listings or properties to sell and in the end, make more money.
- Like goals, vision boards are important for entrepreneurs to keep motivated because it is an industry that is full of rejection.

Activity: Understanding your "why" through designing a vision board to represent your dreams and goals.

Sales

In real estate, a transaction is a process that occurs when a seller or landlord offers their property for sale or rent, and a buyer agrees to purchase or lease that property, and getting something to sell or lease is called a listing.

Activity: Design a graphic that illustrates the types of contracts in real estate and how they work.

Getting a Listing

Making money in real estate is all about closing deals. You need to SELL your product, literally and figuratively.

In real estate, a sales pitch to a seller is called a listing presentation. Agents and brokers generally have one opportunity to make a first impression on their prospective clients and convince them to sign a listing agreement.

Activity: Develop a guide for a new agent to use as a guide for a listing presentation.

We encourage you to continue researching this topic and curate a list of resources that feeds your curiosity, learning, and passion about Entrepreneurship.

Innovating in the Real Estate Industry can mean a lot of things.

Apps

Apps have been developed to facilitate different aspects of selling, buying and leasing and in some cases even excluded real estate agents and brokers connecting sellers and buyers directly.

Smart Homes

Technology has made our homes "smarter" by introducing products that connect to the internet which in some cases has created value for homeowners.

Innovation in Home Building

The use of robotics has been used to lower construction costs. 3D printing or bricklaying robots have allowed homebuilders to reduce building costs and pass on savings to consumers.

AR/VR

Augmented and virtual reality have opened up new ways to showcase properties and to enhance the look of properties through staging.

Cryptocurrency in Real Estate Transactions
