New Alumni

New alumni have access to a series of opportunities, including the Alumni Mentorship Program, networking events, internships, apprenticeships, scholarships, and professional development as well as opportunities to participate in NAF programming, such as joining a local advisory board.

New Young Professional

Those new to the workforce have unique opportunities to both give back as well as receive continued support. They may become a mentor, volunteer for a NAF academy or share their experience at a national event. NAF alumni are often media spokespeople and subjects of NAF's video projects. Job opportunities are regularly shared with NAF Alumni.

Established Alumni

Established alumni still have plenty to gain from being a part of the NAF Alumni Network. They continue to be invited to participate in NAF programming, as well as be spokespeople for media and NAF events. Additional opportunities include hiring NAF interns, serving on local Advisory Boards, and becoming mentors.
