

Drive growth with a commercial platform built to accelerate MedTech sales and marketing.

AcuityMD enables MedTech companies to grow pipeline, increase win rate, and increase team productivity. Our commercial platform replaces tedious research and guesswork with an automated feed of new opportunities so your team can prioritize their efforts based on volume, procedures, location, and more.

BUSINESS BENEFITS

Grow Pipeline

Find new opportunities and eliminate blind spots. AcuityMD identifies high-value physicians and provides insights into their background, behaviors, procedure volume, and sites of care. Easy-to-use filters enable teams to stay on top of market trends and see when surgeons operate at new facilities, perform new procedures, or move across territories. Teams get the inside edge to stay ahead of the competition and increase pipeline.

Boost Win Rates

Tailor your sales approach using detailed physician profiles that include information on their clinical practice, publications, competitive relationships, and education. AcuityMD's peer networks uncover relationships between your customers and target physicians, including publication co-authors, fellowship and residency classmates, and more, enabling teams to leverage peer-to-peer relationships and increase sales.

Increase Team Productivity

Focus your team's efforts on selling instead of manual data entry and analysis with AcuityMD's industry data, intuitive workflows, and seamless integrations. Whether it's a new rep, new territory, or new product, sales teams can hit the ground running with updated target lists to prioritize top conversion targets. Reps spend less time researching and entering data with AcuityMD's easy-to-use interface. With one click, reps add targets to their pipeline and track them throughout the sales cycle.

“AcuityMD provides a richer experience beyond data pulls. It enables us to target better and ultimately hit our goals.”

- Ben Joseph, Vice President, US Commercial and Global Brand Management, Anika Therapeutics
