The person who is the subject of security clearance must have given his/her consent before a check of public records and an individual investigation may be carried out. Such consent shall be considered to apply also to new checks and investigations while the checked person's status remains unchanged. Equally, the applicant is entitled to revoke, at any time, his/her consent to the carrying out of a check of public records. However, this will result in access to the facility being withdrawn.

I understand the above and hereby consent to a check of public records and an individual investigation being carried out in accordance with Sweden's Security Protection Act (2018:585).

In completing the above field for personal data, I understand that Strålsäkerhetsmyndigheten collects my personal data so that it can comply with the legal obligation Strålsäkerhetsmyndigheten has in respect of Sweden's Security Protection Act as per the data protection regulation (article 13).

The personal data will be stored until the checking of public records ends. The checking of public records ends when a cancellation is sent to Strålsäkerhetsmyndigheten on the completion of employment.

The undersigned has taken note of the above information and hereby allows for check of public records

Security Clearance (to be completed by the employer) for

D.O.B (yymmdd) or Swedish personal identity number	Surname	All first names
---	---------	-----------------

There are laws, rules and regulations which underline the responsibility for those who purchase services that they through Security Clearances secure the reliability of the contractor.

The Security Clearance must show:

- That personal knowledge is based on information from reports, certificates and the like as well as references.
- That the information from the job interview, among others about family status, education, earlier work, financial situation, side occupations, contacts, interests, drugs, prosecutions and verdicts as well as personal characteristics form the base for the personal knowledge.

We have reviewed this person personnel file again to confirm trustworthiness and reliability. The person has not exhibited any aberrant behaviour or character traits that might pose a threat to public health and safety or might bear on his/hers ability to discharge his/hers duties in a reasonable manner.

This clearance was based on satisfactory results of background investigation which included checks of criminal records covering a minimum of the past five years and checks of other evidence that would threat or reflect adversely upon that individual's trustworthiness and reliability. Criminal record check was performed at (date) _____ and is enclosed.

Yours sincerely
