

POWER SKILL: COMMUNICATION

Communication is an important skill in work and in life. Use this sheet to better understand the word. Then consider how this skill plays a role in your life and in the life of someone you've learned about.

What does communication mean? Give an example.

Why is communication an important skill?

How does the person you learned about use communication in their job?

Do you have good communication skills? In what ways do you prefer to communicate?
