Use by External Groups or Individuals: The near capacity use of facilities for internal operations minimizes availability for external groups or individuals. When space is available authorized departments may permit the use of facilities by external groups or individuals with the approval of the appropriate Responsible Executive. Use must be consistent with the university's mission of the university, policies and status as a tax exempt educational institution.

Groups seeking to use university facilities are designated as "external" when they are responsible for program content and event finances. Individuals are defined as students, faculty, staff, and Trustees operating outside their authorized duties or persons not employed by the university.

Insurance Coverage: Insurance and liability coverage must always be a consideration for programs and events conducted at the university. Stevens general liability insurance policy covers activities conducted by employees, departments, student organizations, or Trustees acting within the scope of their official duties and approved by the appropriate authority.

If the use of university facilities by an external group or an individual (as defined in "Use by External Groups or Individuals") is approved by the appropriate Responsible Executive, insurance coverage must be secured. Groups have the option of providing documentation of their general liability coverage, with Stevens as "an additional insured" or purchasing a one-time event policy. Individuals provide general liability coverage with Stevens as "an additional insured".

Stevens has made arrangements with Entertainment Brokers International to offer low cost coverage for one-time events via the TULIP program. Information and application information can be found at <https://www.ebi-ins.com/tulip/>. Use Entity ID number 0454-000 when prompted.

The Office of Audit, Risk & Compliance at Stevens is a resource for information on insurance coverage for programs and events.

Expenses: For events sponsored by schools, divisions, research centers, departments, and student organizations there is no rental charge for facility usage, but all other expenses associated with the event are the responsibility of the sponsor. Charges, if any, are identified during the scheduling process.

For external groups or individuals a rental fee is charged unless waived by the appropriate Responsible Executive. Rental fees are established by the departments authorized to manage specific facilities with the approval of the Responsible Executive. In addition to a rental fee external groups and individuals are responsible for all other expenses associated with the event.

Financial Oversight: The use of income generated from facility usage is subject to the approval of the responsible executive and the oversight of the Office of Finance. Rental income from events or activities that are not consistent with the mission of the university are subject to taxation. The Office of Finance provides guidance and reporting instructions on taxable income.
