May 6–8, 2026

Pier Sixty-Six, Ft. Lauderdale, FL

THMA Cardiovascular Forum

The Cardiovascular Forum brings together medical and administrative leaders of cardiovascular service lines from leading health systems nationwide, along with industry partners and innovators, for focused, retreat-style meetings held twice a year. Centered on shared experiential learning, best practice exchange, and collaborative problem-solving, the Forum addresses critical issues like access and capacity growth, ASC strategy and ambulatory care expansion, advanced practice provider workforce development, AI integration in cardiovascular operations, remote patient monitoring and virtual care, physician compensation models, cardio-oncology programs, and service line evolution. Participants gain actionable insights and develop meaningful connections that drive cardiovascular innovation and operational excellence.

The Value of THMA Industry Convening

Bringing health systems and industry companies together to drive change through retreat-style forums is what we've specialized in for the past 25 years.

Join us this Spring and build genuine relationships through intimate discussions, collaborative problem-solving and thought leadership exchange.

“The key component to this group is relationships. There is something about it that feels like a family reunion of getting back together every year.”
