AN ETF PORTFOLIO WITH A GOAL OF GROWTH AND SOME CASH FLOW.

This portfolio is invested in ETF's with a goal of growth comparable to the equity market with less risk than the broad equity market and some cash flow. A weight of the evidence process is used to select specific ETFs. The investment strategy may include US equity ETFs, international equity ETFs, fixed income ETFs holding bonds of any domicile and any other ETF. Investments in this strategy are selected first by study of the macroeconomic picture, then quantitative factors and technical analysis at a sector level. The cash flow generally comes from dividends. This portfolio is typically fully or near fully invested.
