

Jugader Zipline Kits Recall April 11, 2024

April 11: Jugader is recalling about 6,600 of their Zipline kits because the stainless steel cable can break and pose a fall hazard.

Product(s) affected: Jugader Zipline kits (contains a 160-foot long, 4 mm thick cable wire, a blue trolley, and a plastic seat) sold only on Amazon.com between March 2020 - June 2023.

What to do if you have the product(s): Immediately stop using the product and contact Jugader for a repair kit (includes cable and installation instructions). You will need your Amazon order number or submit a photo of the trolley and cable.
