

Insignia Air Fryers Recall March 14, 2024

March 14: Best Buy is recalling about 187,400 Insignia Air Fryers and Air Fryer Ovens due to the risk of overheating (glass doors can shatter, and handles melt or break as a result).

Product(s) affected: Insignia Air Fryers and Insignia Air Fryer Ovens sold at Best Buy stores, BestBuy.com, eBay.com, and third-party sellers between Nov. 2021 - Nov. 2023. Here are the affected model numbers:

- NS-AF34D2
- NS-AF5DSS2
- NS-AF5MSS2
- NS-AF8DBD2
- NS-AF10DBK2
- NS-AF10DSS2

The Insignia brand name is on the top or front of each unit. These recalled items also have a product rating label on the bottom with the brand name INSIGNIA and the model number. Cooking chamber capacities range from about 3.4 to 10 quarts. The bodies are plastic or plastic and stainless steel, with black and stainless steel finishes.

What to do if you have the product(s): Immediately stop using the product. Visit Best Buy's recall page for instructions on how to get a full refund. Do not return these products to a Best Buy store.

For questions, you can contact Best Buy at (800) 566-7498 from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. CT Monday - Friday.