Purebred Pups Need Coverage Too

Caswell

Cruciate Ligament Tear

When Caswell's mom adopted her, she knew pet insurance was a must. She picked Embrace because there are no genetic or breed-specific condition exclusions.

She didn't expect to use her pet insurance so soon, but even before Caswell's first birthday she started having knee issues that led to a cranial cruciate ligament tear. A costly surgery was needed to repair it and the vet recommended alternative therapy to help Caswell recover.

"None of this would be possible without Embrace. I am so thankful for a company that supports pets and their parents through unexpected medical journeys."

– Morgan, Caswell's Pet Parent
