

THE WISDOM OF A GUARDED HEART

LEARNING TO TRUST WHEN YOU DON'T UNDERSTAND

"Wisdom is not knowing all things. Wisdom is this: When you don't know things, it is to remain quiet and keep it in your heart."

MARY'S BLUEPRINT: THREE BIBLICAL SCENARIOS

SCENARIO 1

When All Doors Are Closed

Luke 2

- The Context: Mary carried the literal Son of God, yet was met with completely closed doors at the inn and had to resort to a humble manger.
- The Wisdom: She didn't rage or demand an explanation from heaven. She quietly rested in God's divine favor despite the heavy physical limitations.

SCENARIO 2

When Met With Confusion

Luke 2:41-51

- The Context: After 3 days of frantic searching for the 12-year-old Jesus, His response about His "Father's house" was impossible for Mary to logically process.
- The Wisdom: Instead of arguing, over-analyzing, or lashing out in maternal anxiety, she actively treasured all these deep things in her heart.

SCENARIO 3

When Timelines Conflict

John 2

- The Context: At the wedding in Cana, Jesus responded directly to her request, stating that His "hour had not yet come."
- The Wisdom: She bypassed getting offended or trying to force an early manifestation. She simply directed the servants to trust Him blindly: "Do whatever He tells you."

HOW TO WALK IN THIS WISDOM TODAY

1 Stop Over-Researching Your Pain

Avoid staying up late trying to pinpoint whether a trial is from God, a demon, or your own fault. You do not need to figure out the structural anatomy of a crisis to receive God's supernatural peace.

2 Guard Your Mouth & Your Heart

When heavy seasons strike or comparison knocks at the door, refrain from vocalizing complaints. Keep your raw questions safely within your heart and handle them exclusively in the prayer room.

3 Rest Securely in the Timeline

Mary lacked total understanding at the manger, the temple, and the cross—but at the empty tomb, everything was made beautifully clear. Trust that your personal clarity is arriving in its perfect season.
