

Embase Classic is an essential abstract and index backfile, which enables biomedical researchers to review critical research from 1947 to 1973.

3,000+

international journal source titles

1.8 million

records with >1.1 million unique to Embase Classic

one file

of Embase
and Embase Classic

90%+

of records have
abstracts available

Database scope

Covers the content of the printed Excerpta Medica Abstract journals from 1947-1973, including:

- Anaesthesiology (1966-1973)
- Anatomy, Anthropology, Embryology, Histology (1947-1973)
- Biochemistry, Clinical Biochemistry (1965-1973)
- Endocrinology (1947-1973)
- Internal Medicine (1947-1973)
- Ophthalmology (1947-1973)
- Pharmacology and Toxicology (1965-1973)
- Physiology, Biochemistry, Pharmacology (1948-1973)
- Tuberculosis, Pulmonary Diseases, Chest Diseases, Thoracic Surgery and Tuberculosis (1948-1973)

User benefits

- ✓ Thesaurus control and indexing
Indexed with the same thesaurus as the current Embase file, Emtree, Elsevier's life science thesaurus
- ✓ Search, retrieval and linkage
 - Emtree mapping available for every search
 - CAS registry numbers generated for Emtree drugs
- ✓ Synergies
Embase and Embase Classic searches may be combined on all platforms, allowing retrieval of results from 1947 to the present day in a single search
- ✓ Availability
Currently available on OvidSP, ProQuest Dialog and STN