2026

InnoTech 2026: Innovation and Technology Management Conference, under the theme ‘Managing Innovation and Technology in the Digital and Intelligent Age’, is a premier event bringing together the global research community to advance understanding in innovation and technology management. It will take place from 22-24 May 2026 at the Renaissance Beijing Haidian Hotel, Beijing, China.

This first edition of the conference offers a platform for critical dialogue across disciplines, sectors, and continents. With strong participation from Elsevier's leading journals in innovation and technology studies, InnoTech 2026 will feature a rich program including:

- Keynote addresses by internationally recognized scholars and thought leaders.
- Academic sessions showcasing cutting-edge theoretical and empirical research.
- Interactive “Meet the Editor” sessions and “How to Get Published” panels which will support both early-career and established researchers in navigating the scholarly publication landscape.
