

“While I’m away, remember to always help keep our beaches clean”

Hello!

You’ve now heard the big news about my upcoming adventure, so let me tell you more about it!

I’ll be heading across the pond to Florida to help protect the beaches and keep them clean, taking over from my super smart niece Jaz, who is needed for a very important mission back here in the UK. She’s an inventor and her super sketching skills are going to come in very handy for the Squad!

I’ve absolutely loved being part of the Seaside Squad, meeting you and so many other great people over the years! What amazing memories we made together!

Even though this is a big change, Jaz is incredible and I just know you’re going to love her! I’m really excited for my new adventure, but I’ll miss you very much!

If there’s anything you ever need to tell me, make sure you give the message to Jaz and she can send it my way.

I can’t wait to see what the Squad get up to in the future!
