

“You’re smarter than you think!”

Hey squadders,

I’m Jaz, the newest member of the Seaside Squad!

I’m so excited to be part of the gang, my uncle Bradley has told me so much about you all!

I’ve joined the Squad on a really important mission where my super sketching skills are going to come in really handy! You’ll find out more about that very soon.

In the meantime, let me tell you a little bit about me:

I’m an inventor and am always sketching new ideas. I recently built a super speed race car, as well as a very fancy Glow Up machine which I’m so excited for you to see.

My favourite colour is yellow and if you hadn’t realised already, Bradley Bear is my uncle. Have you heard about his latest adventure? He’ll now be taking over from me in Florida helping to keep the beaches clean, whilst I get to spend my time with you!

I can’t wait to meet you, I just know we’re going to be best friends!

Jaz
