

Juliana Azevedo

Chief Executive Officer – Grooming
Executive Sponsor – Corporate Gender Equality

Juliana Azevedo leads P&G’s global grooming business, including the biggest shaving brands in the world—Gillette, Venus, Braun and King C Gillette—serving more than 800 million global consumers with annual revenues of about $7 billion. Gillette has the largest geographic footprint of any P&G brand, sold in more than 170 countries worldwide. Prior to this role, Juliana led P&G’s second largest category as President, Global Home Care and P&G Professional.

With a passion for innovation and category development, Juliana joined P&G as an intern in 1996 and has since led many of P&G’s iconic global brands in Brand Management and Sales leadership roles. Among her many accomplishments, Juliana was the first woman to lead the Company’s business in Latin America, igniting a business turnaround. Prior to this, Juliana led P&G’s business in Brazil achieving market leadership in key categories and leading multiple M&A transitions, including Gillette and former P&G brands Wella and Coty. Prior to this, she served as Global Brand Franchise Leader of the Feminine Care category.

Known as a visionary leader, Juliana’s drive to advance P&G’s citizenship agenda has resulted in external recognition, such as Bloomberg’s 500 Most Influential People 2023, 100 Most Powerful Women in Business Expansion 2023, LinkedIn Top Voice, CNN Brazil Remarkable and Forbes Top 10 CEOs in Brazil.

Serving as Executive Sponsor for Gender Equality, Juliana is a passionate advocate for education and youth development. She has served as a member of the Board of Trustees for United Way International and Chairman of UNICEF Board in Brazil. She often lectures as guest teacher in business schools.
