

Tina Wilson

Chief People Officer

As Chief People Officer, Tina is responsible for LendingClub's award-winning workplace, including recruiting, culture, engagement, development, organizational design, and facilities.

During her tenure, Tina has opened LendingClub's offices in Lehi, Boston, and New York City; managed the integration of multiple acquisitions, including Radius Bank; secured multiple top workplace awards; successfully led LendingClub through the COVID pandemic and the company's subsequent return to the office; and secured a new headquarters building in San Francisco. Prior to joining LendingClub in 2015, Tina served as a Director at Daversa Partners, a boutique executive search firm specializing in leadership recruiting for venture-backed companies.

Tina holds a BA in Communications and graduated with distinction from The Pennsylvania State University.

